

BRITISH COLUMBIA TO HAVE NEW PILOTAGE ACT

All Rail Branch Line Bills But One Approved

Of C.N.R. and C.P.R. Proposals, Commons Committee Has Only C.P.R. Melfort-Sutherland Line in Saskatchewan to Consider Before Sending Recommendations to House.

Ottawa, March 6.—The Canadian National Railway branch line programme, to build approximately 700 miles of branch lines at an estimated cost of about $28,000,000, was approved in full at this forenoon's sitting of the railway committee of the House of Commons.

The branch line programme of the Canadian Pacific Railway also was rapidly advanced.

With the exception of a proposed line from Melfort to Sutherland, in the area which has been under dispute with the Canadian National, approval was given for all proposed branch lines of the Canadian Pacific for an approximate mileage of 1,100 miles. Further consideration of the Melfort-Sutherland line will be given at tomorrow's sitting of the committee.

The proposal of the Canadian National to construct a branch line from Melfort to Aberdeen is included in the approval given to the C.N.R. programme.

THREE-YEAR LIMIT

Arguing that the two railway systems should be placed on a parity in respect to the time in which authorized branch lines within one year after authorization for each line that has been given by parliament and that construction of such lines must be carried out within a period of three years.

D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the C.P.R., requested that the amendment be allowed to stand in order to afford the company an opportunity to study its provisions. The committee agreed and the question probably will come up tomorrow.

RAILWAY ROUTE TO BE CHANGED

Part of Stave Falls-Ruskin Line Will Be Flooded By New B.C.E.R. Dam

Vancouver, March 6.—The B.C. Electric Railway Company has called for tenders from leading provincial contracting firms for the relocation of the Stave Falls-Ruskin Railway line, a work which will cost approximately $250,000. Bids will close on March 9. This work is being undertaken incidentally to the construction of the great hydro-electric project on the Stave River near Ruskin.

When the dam blocks the waters of the Stave River and floods a miniature valley to form a lake of considerable proportions, as is planned in the Ruskin project, part of the present route of the Stave Falls Railway will be under water. Thus construction of about three and a half miles of new line to maintain communication between Stave Falls and Ruskin will be necessary.

The Stave Falls Railway was built by the Western Power Company of Canada under Federal charter, and was primarily for use of logging concerns. The B. C. Electric Railway Company, since taking control, has operated a passenger service. The line originally cost $250,000.

Secret Service Investigation Start Thursday

First meeting of the select committee of the Legislature consisting of H. D. Twigg, J. W. Berry and Ian Mackenzie to inquire into the secret service funds dispensed under the Liquor Act will be held to-morrow morning, and it is probable that permission will be obtained to sit during the session of the Legislature so that the report can be completed within a few days for presentation to the House.

Power is given to the committee to call witnesses under oath, to secure evidence on money spent for inspectors and prosecuting officers and to call for the production of papers, vouchers, correspondence and books relating to the secret service fund.

The few days at the disposal of the committee will not, it is anticipated, call for an inquiry into the whole of the affairs of the secret service. It is thought that certain phases will be investigated as indicated by Attorney-General Pooley when he said certain things had been brought to his attention and he thought he would be lacking in his duty if an inquiry were not made into them.

ADDRESSES LEAGUE COUNCIL AT GENEVA

SENATOR RAOUL DANDURAND, Representative of Canada

Water Board To Control Utilities

Vancouver, March 6.—A Victoria dispatch to-day in the Vancouver Province says:

The Provincial Water Board will be given the job of controlling public utility company operations in British Columbia for the present, under plans laid before companies by the Government at a conference here. While the broad outline of the Government's public utility policy was thus revealed, Hon. F. P. Burden, Minister of Lands, said to-day that the legislation now drafted was subject to amendment following protests against some parts of it by power companies.

HASTE IS NOT RULE OF TOUR

Miss Coutts, Winnipeg Electric Co. Secretary, Explains B.C. Visit

Vancouver, March 6.—There was no element of haste in her departure from Winnipeg, Miss Beatrice Coutts, secretary to Edward Anderson, president of the Winnipeg Electric Company, declared here to-day.

Miss Coutts, whose departure from Winnipeg was the subject of questioning yesterday by counsel before the royal commission investigating corruption charges against the Bracken Government in connection with the Seven Sisters Falls waterpower deal, arrived in Vancouver last Saturday for a holiday and will remain on the Coast for several weeks, including a trip to Victoria. She has not decided yet whether she will visit California, where she has friends.

"I am just on a holiday which I had planned for some time. What the news reports said about my work is quite true," said Miss Coutts. "For a long time."

CANADA'S MINORITIES PLAN LAID BEFORE LEAGUE COUNCIL

Geneva, March 6 (By George Hambleton, Staff Correspondent of the Canadian Press).—After hours of "tea-cup diplomacy," the Council of the League of Nations to-day came finally to grips with the problem of minorities. It was a striking scene when Senator Raoul Dandurand of Canada arose to read his motion for dealing with petitions from minority peoples.

Briefly, the Canadian statesman proposed that petitions should be heard by the full Council, so that each minority petitioner would be satisfied that proper investigation of his grievances had been made and that it would not be left ignorant of the

MILK BILL IS NOW APPROVED

New Measure Is Endorsed By Agricultural Committee By Big Majority

The new milk bill, under which losses on the sale of manufactured milk products would be distributed among all producers in any area adopting it, was approved by the Agricultural Committee of the Legislature with one dissenting vote to-day.

Announcement that the bill had been given the approval of the committee, which consists of seven members, was made by J. W. Berry, chairman, just after noon. The legislation will go to the House immediately where it will have the support of the committee members.

Now that the measure has successfully overcome all objections to it in the Agricultural Committee, its sponsors expressed confidence that the House would accept the committee's recommendation and give it final approval.

Only one small change in the bill was made by the committee. Mr. Berry said it makes the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council instead of the Minister of Agriculture responsible for bringing the new loss-distribution system into effect in any district on petition. Otherwise the bill is left intact.

Explorer Byrd Has New Aide

Lieut. R. Brophy Resigns as Second in Command of Antarctic Expedition

London, March 6.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Wellington, N.Z., says Lieut. Richard Brophy, second in command of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition, is resigning his position.

TO LAY UP SHIPS
Wellington, N.Z., March 6.—Commander Richard E. Byrd's supply ship, the Eleanor Bolling, has arrived at Dunedin bearing traces of terrific storms she encountered when 1,200 miles south of New Zealand on her way back to the ice barrier with supplies. It was at that point that Commander Byrd ordered her to return with her cargo to New Zealand. The base ship, the City of New York, is expected next Monday, and both vessels will lay up at Dunedin for the winter.

MONTEREY RECAPTURED FROM REBELS

Federal Troops Quickly Defeat Escobar Group in North Mexico

Forces Sent By Government to City From Five Directions

Mexico City, March 6.—An official bulletin to-day announced the city of Monterey had been recaptured by Federal troops, who had driven out the rebel forces of General Escobar.

FROM FIVE DIRECTIONS

Mexico City, March 5.—Federal troops converged from five directions this morning on Monterey, capital of the state of Nuevo Leon. A counter attack which would attempt recapture of the city from General Gonzalo Escobar's rebel force, was imminent. So seriously did the Government regard the rebellion in Northern Mexico and the capture of Monterey on Monday that a large body of troops was taken from the Vera Cruz campaign and dispatched to Nuevo Leon. General Andre Almazan, commanding the Vera Cruz campaign, was sent northward with the contingent, which this morning was well past San Luis Potosi.

FORCES TO UNITE

Meanwhile another federal contingent was advancing northward from Tampico under General Ortiz and was encamped at Montemorelos, Nuevo Leon, where it awaited General Almazan's force.

Another federal column started from Matamoros in northwestern Tamaulipas, while General Serratos at the head of federal troops advanced from Nuevo Laredo southward and reached Salinas, Victoria, a few kilometers north of Monterey. General Meza, formerly of General Escobar's command, led a force from Coahuila to join with the Serratos contingent. Thus in the space of twenty-four hours the Government's efforts to crush the rebellion shifted from Vera Cruz, where the opening of the port is an outlet to the Gulf of Mexico, to a matter of some necessity to the north. Radio communications with the United States had been broken by rebel successes.

Lacked Water To Battle Fire

Only Thirty Gallons of Chemical on Hand When Big Blaze Started in Rossland

Rossland, March 6.—That the Rossland water system had been practically empty of water for six weeks and that the fire department had only a thirty-gallon tank of chemical loaded by Tadanac and a weak stream of water to fight the $500,000 fire here last Friday night, were statements made by Kenneth Martin, fire chief, who took the stand this morning as the first witness at the inquiry being conducted by J. A. Thomas, of Vancouver, provincial fire marshal. Chief Martin stated he had tried to protect the post office, but that the stream from the fire hose would not reach the store of the building. He had had nothing to do with dynamiting any buildings. The city council was aware of the water conditions, the chief said, but the only measure of added protection given was a night watchman.

INSPECTION WORK

Charged by Fire Marshal Thomas with having neglected to make thorough inspections, Chief Martin stated he had informed the city council the Fire Marshal's Act required him to make inspections. The council had agreed to give him a man as soon as the finances were in better shape.

He had wanted chemical extinguishers for years but could not get them, he declared.

OLD BUILDINGS

Informed he had authority to order buildings torn down if they were in a hazardous condition, Chief Martin answered that if the provincial authorities would support him he would tear down all the buildings here.

Fire Marshal Thomas charged Chief Martin with taking too much responsibility in failing to seek the assistance of the provincial office.

Japan Ship In the Pacific Calls For Aid

Crew of Ss. Yuri Maru in Danger; Vessel Aground at Kama Island

Seattle, March 6.—Giving the call letters of JASD, which were assigned to the Japanese steamship Yuri Maru, an SOS call was intercepted by radio stations here to-day.

The SOS said the vessel was aground on Kama Island, at lat. 54.2, longitude 173.58 East. The boat's wireless operator was in communication with the radio station at Guam, in the South Seas.

Immediate assistance was asked and the ship was said to be in immediate danger.

DOUBT EXPRESSED

Doubt whether the distressed vessel could be the Yuri Maru was expressed by officials of the Merchants' Exchange here, as shipping guides reported the arrival of the Yuri Maru at Hamburg from New York, February 16, and the vessel could not have reached the position indicated in the SOS message.

DAVID BUICK OF AUTO FAME DIES

Man Who Founded Big Company Ends Life in Comparative Poverty

Detroit, March 6.—David D. Buick, seventy-four, founder of the Buick Automobile Company, now a unit of the General Motors Corporation, died of cancer here last night.

Mr. Buick, who was known as one of the pioneers of the automobile industry, died in comparative poverty. For the last two years he had held an instructorship in the Detroit School of Trades.

ONCE WEALTHY

In 1901 Mr. Buick was a wealthy man, a manufacturer of plumbing fixtures, who had just sold his plant for $100,000 to indulge in his dream of a "horseless carriage."

He used his entire fortune in a series of experiments, none of which was a success. He was in debt when he finally developed a car he was convinced the Buick Company, the Flint Wagon Works and several Flint banks were deeply involved. They asked W. C. Durant of the Durant-Dort Carriage Company of Flint to take over the tottering Buick Company. Durant did so. He sold $500,000 worth of stock in the enterprise and later organized the General Motors Corporation, which he in turn lost to the DuPonts and other capitalists.

Mr. Buick later engaged in other automobile enterprises, none of which brought him success.

GOVERNMENT BACKS DOWN ON NEW TAX

School Levy to Be Reduced From Three Mills to One Mill, Following Protest

Hinchliffe Plans Further Amendments to Existing Legislation

Under fire from its own supporters, the Provincial Government has been forced to back down on its plan to levy a three-mill school tax in assisted rural school districts.

This levy will be reduced to one mill, it was announced at the Parliament Buildings, C. F. Davis, Conservative of Cowichan-Newcastle, is moving that the levy be cut down in this way and his proposal has the approval of the Government. This arrangement is being made to satisfy the strong protest that the original three-mill levy provoked in all parts of the Province.

FURTHER AMENDMENTS

Further amendments to the Public School Act are planned by Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education. In the first place, the Minister takes power to appoint a superintendent of power to close schools where the average attendance falls below eight in municipal school districts or below six in rural districts, and to change from time to time the status of any ordinary school district to an assisted rural district.

Another clause allows school boards to supply classless free to indigent pupils with the service of a qualified opiomist.

The Vancouver School Board is given power to appoint a superintendent of schools to aid the Superintendent of Education "in carrying out a uniform system of education" and to submit reports to the provincial official on the teaching ability of all teachers. The appointment of the Vancouver superintendent will be made by the school board, subject to the approval of the Council of Public Instruction.

The board also is permitted to appoint one or more school inspectors.

POWER SITE WAS OFFERED TO CITY

Winnipeg Had First Chance to Lease Seven Sisters Falls

Winnipeg, March 6.—Transfer of the Seven Sisters power site on the Winnipeg River to the Winnipeg Hydro-Electric System instead of the Winnipeg Electric Company, was considered by the Bracken Government, W. J. Major, K.C., formerly Attorney-General, testified to-day before the Royal Commission investigating charges against the Bracken Government made by Lieut.-Col. F. G. Taylor, K.C., Conservative leader in the Manitoba Legislature.

It was not believed that the city of Winnipeg would pay the $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 expropriation cost for Pinawa Falls, which would need to be shut down, he said.

Hugh Phillips, K.C., counsel for Lieut.-Col. Taylor, asked the witness whether, on the principle that expropriation is based on compensation, the Pinawa plant could have been paid for by setting aside 40,000 horsepower annually in perpetuity and still leave plenty of power.

"Forty thousand horsepower at $10 to $20 a horsepower in perpetuity would be a large amount," Mr. Major answered.

Bill to be Placed Before Parliament at Present Session Will Closely Follow Recommendations of Mr. Justice Morrison, Who as Commissioner Held Inquiry; Payment of Dues by Ships Will Not Be Compulsory

Ottawa, March 6.—All pilots on the British Columbia Coast will be examined by a board of examiners to be set up in the immediate future under legislation to be put through during the present session of Parliament, it was announced to-day.

The legislation will follow closely the recommendations of Mr. Justice Morrison, who, as a royal commissioner, investigated questions of pilotage in British Columbia waters and reported to the Government.

Hudson Bay Line Will Not Harm Coast

B.C. Seaboard Will Continue to Develop as Grain Route, Says George C. Rooke

"We are entering upon the period of our greatest expansion," said George C. Rooke, president of the Regina Board of Trade, in relating the advantages the Saskatchewan capital expects to gain with the opening of the Hudson Bay Railway.

Mr. Rooke arrived at the Empress Hotel yesterday in company with a notable party of Regina public men, including A. P. McNab, member of the federal cabinet, and a former Minister of Public Works in the Saskatchewan Government; W. Yule, superintendent of the Royal Bank for Saskatchewan; J. H. Chown, Divisional Superintendent for the Canadian Pacific Railway at Regina; and Mr. Justice Knowles of Moose Jaw, Sask.

The party, joined Dr. E. W. Stapleford, president of the Regina College, who reached the city on Sunday.

FORGING AHEAD

"Regina is forging ahead and we are not to grasp our opportunities," declared Mr. Rooke in a talk to-day with the press.

"We expect greatly to benefit by the decentralization of industries and in this respect our city is in a most advantageous position."

In speaking of the industrial development of Regina, Mr. Rooke made reference to the numerous smaller industries that had located in the city since the establishment of the General Motors plant in Regina. Several plants tributary to the motor trade had been established and were adding to the industrial expansion of the city, he stated. Regina now has a population of 60,000 and fully 5,000 had been added during the last year.

"We expect great things of the Hudson Bay Railway," enthusiastically exclaimed Mr. Rooke, in telling of Saskatchewan.

Anglican National Commission Discusses Church Policy at Memorial Hall

Striking changes in the policy of the Anglican Church, with an increase in the attention to be paid to the position of the boy and girl in the church, were forecasted at Memorial Hall last night by Right Rev. D. T. Owens, Bishop of Niagara, chairman of the Anglican National Commission, in a summing up of points raised at a meeting of hundreds of lay delegates, from all the parishes of Victoria, Lower Vancouver Island and the Islands.

The gathering was the first of the type held in Victoria and under the chairmanship of Lindley Grease, K.C., tendered advice to the Anglican National Commission on many matters. A notable point stressed was the necessity of revitalizing the human agents through which the work of the church was carried on, which was always, and would always be, a deep and present need.

MUST TRAIN YOUNG

Forecasting the attitude of the commission towards changes to be adopted by the Anglican Church, Bishop Owens said: "We shall give a prominent place in our report to the position of the child and the growing boy and girl in the church. The church must give more attention to them and to work among them."

After warmly thanking the many speakers for their suggestions, which he said would be of great aid to the commission, the Bishop of Niagara declared the commission had learned many things since coming to Victoria, including the necessity to encourage small groups having special knowledge to submit their views on important matters concerning the church and religious problems.

FRANKNESS SOUGHT

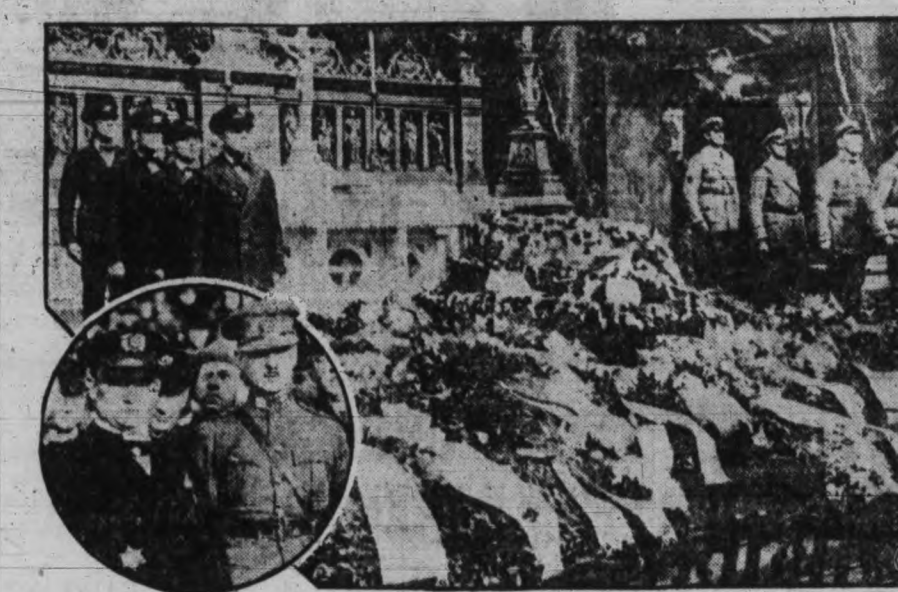

When proceedings opened the chairman stated that the meeting was of a family character, called with a view to attaining the utmost frankness in discussion, by laymen, of the problems of the church.

Following an explanation by Canon Gould of Toronto of the origin of the Anglican National Commission and its objectives, spokesmen from many congregations expressed views which, in general, stressed the need of more attention to young people and more study of the Bible. Many speakers were ardently in support of Bible reading in the public schools. Others pointed out that the schools had been developed into a unifying influence throughout Canada by the present system of exclusion of religious matters. It was suggested that co-operation by all the churches could devise a means whereby the resources and opportunities of the public schools system could be utilized in religious training.

Much criticism was directed to the lack of support accorded the Sunday schools by the local and national church, and speakers pointed out that the young mind must gain more from example of parents attending church than could be acquired at Sunday school or through the teaching of Sunday school instructors.

The attitude of the commissioners towards the future policy of the church was intimated by Canon Gould at the close of his address, when he emphasized that the great call of the world today was directed towards youth. He believed that youth was willing to respond to the call of the church, which must become the great task to be advanced.

The World Famous "Ounce of Prevention"

A dash of ENO in a glass of water daily.

Intestinal poisoning from absorption is the cause of many ills. It yields and succumbs to ENO'S "Fruit Salt" because ENO so surely, but ever so gently and safely, eliminates the poisonous waste matter that causes it.

Thus does the simple daily dash of ENO'S "Fruit Salt" become the "ounce of prevention" that forestalls any necessity for the more drastic measures.

To gain a new zest for life and its duties, test ENO for yourself. . . just a dash in a glass of water every morning for a few days.

But remember, there is only one ENO. Resolutely refuse substitutes; then you will know that you have the safe, dependable, non-habit-forming health beverage.

ENO'S "FRUIT SALT"

The words "Fruit Salt" and ENO are the registered trade marks of J. C. ENO Ltd.

Fanned by the wind, the flames roared, great clouds of smoke billowed skyward and the explosions of automobile tires came in sharp succession.

REPORT ON FOOD OF IDLE MINERS

London, March 6 (Canadian Press Cable).—From the observations we made personally in the houses we visited, observations which were confirmed by what we told us by various informants, the diet in the households of the unemployed men comprised little beyond white bread, butter or margarine, potatoes, sugar, jam, tea and bacon in limited quantities.

Sir Arthur B. Lowry, chief inspector of the Ministry of Health, and James Pearce, an official of the department, thus report officially on an investigation they made among the homes of the unemployed in the coalfields of South Wales and Monmouth.

"Meat," the report continues, "was seldom eaten except in very small quantities on Sundays, very often not more than a shilling's worth for the whole family. Fresh milk was not seen by us except when supplied from a welfare clinic, the usual milk being skimmed, or condensed. Fresh vegetables other than potatoes were seldom eaten."

The report does not record any widespread manifestations of impaired health which could be attributed to insufficient nourishment.

At another point the report says: "Apart from diet, another factor which tends to impair the physical condition of the poorest of the population is the insufficiency of proper clothing and footwear."

The report suggests any additional funds can best be allocated to the transfer of miners from areas in which they can not find work. "It is a common observation that work is needed rather than food or clothing," it states. "We feel there is much justification for this view. From the first we were struck more by the aspect of depression among the unemployed men and their listlessness. We think it is duty to represent that in the interests of the nation as a whole, and not only in the mining communities, steps should be taken to do away with the burden of this idleness."

The report further states that although there is no obvious evidence in some areas, women, especially the mothers of young children, suffer to an unusual extent from languor and anaemia.

M.P.'S DISCUSS PENALTIES FOR FAILURE TO VOTE

Ottawa, March 6.—Compulsory voting was considered yesterday by the special committee of the House of Commons which is dealing with amendment to the Dominion Election Act and the Corrupt Practices Act. No decision as to the principle involved will be made until sections are drafted suitable to Canadian conditions.

Dr. T. E. Kaiser, Conservative, Ontario, read to the committee the sections of the Australian Act which he said was working satisfactorily. In the last election in that country, ninety-one per cent of the voters on the lists had attended the polls as compared with seventy-eight per cent in the previous election. With the assistance of W. A. Boys, Conservative, Simcoe North, Ont., Dr. Kaiser was asked to draft sections suitable for inclusion in the Dominion Elections Act.

The Australian Act provides a penalty of £2 for failure to vote, if no reasonable excuse can be given for such failure.

ISLAND RAIL BILL DRAFTED BY COMMONS

Ottawa, March 6.—Discussion developed in the House of Commons last night on second reading of a bill respecting the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway Company. G. H. Dickie, Conservative, Nanaimo, explained the bill was to give an extension of time to the company for the construction of branch lines.

The bill was given second reading and referred to the railway committee.

During the discussion A. W. Neill, Independent, Comox-Alberni, said that while he was in favor of the building of the branch lines, he wished to point out the original act had been passed in 1919, and he suggested greater progress should have been made. Another complaint was that there was no provision in the act in regard to bonding privileges. He would not want the company to come back in another five years and say there had been a delay on that account.

He suggested Mr. Dickie take the matter up with his "principals" and see if an arrangement could be made to bring this bill into conformity with section 161 of the Railway Act.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Acting Conservative Leader, objected to the use of the term "principals" as applied to a member whose name was attached to a bill.

Mr. Guthrie was supported by the Speaker.

TIME FOR DISCUSSION

Hon. Charles Dunning, Minister of Railways, pointed out the matters under discussion could be taken up when the bill was before the railway committee.

D. B. Funkett, Conservative, Victoria, supported the bill and declared that if the permit were not granted many lumbermen would be out of work on Vancouver Island.

Mr. Dickie said the railway ran through timber country, and as the demand for the timber became greater so also was it necessary gradually to extend the railway.

FISHING BOAT DESTROYED IN MORNING FIRE

Minnie Berna Is Seriously Damaged By Explosion and Fire at 3 a.m. To-day

During a spectacular early morning blaze at 3 a.m. to-day, the small fishing vessel Minnie Berna blew up as she lay alongside the wharf at the Murdie-Wood Engineering Works on the old Industrial Reserve in the Inner Harbor. The report of the explosion was heard at that time and the fire burned on board afterwards for nearly two hours before the Victoria Fire Department finally put out the flames. Damage caused was extensive, but the craft was not completely gutted. Tenders will be called for her repairing immediately, marine surveyors announced this morning, following a survey of the damaged craft.

Capt. Thomas Coburn, owner and master of the small craft had a fire in the "galley" yesterday morning, and looked up and left the ship at 2 o'clock, when as far as he knew everything was safe. There was no one on the vessel the rest of the day and just how the fire started is a complete mystery. It spread to the gasoline tanks causing a sharp explosion, which first appraised the owners of the engineering plant of the fire raging aboard the ship tied up at their wharf. The Victoria Fire Department was called and responded to the alarm with double speed, but on account of the position of the ship and the distance of the hydrant, it was nearly two hours before the men could get under control and then not until serious damage had been caused.

NO ONE ABOARD

Had anyone been sleeping on the craft at the time of the explosion he would not be alive to tell the tale, now, it is reported, as the sleeping accommodation was completely demolished by the explosion. The report was loud, but on account of the situation of the ship very few people heard it, although it shook houses and other buildings in the vicinity of the reserve, and caused a ruddy glow as the flames leaped skyward.

The Minnie Berna was a ship of eighteen tons. She had a length of forty-three feet, a breadth of twelve feet and a depth of six feet. She was to have been put on the marine railway at the Murdie-Wood plant this morning for cleaning and painting, and general overhaul preparatory to being used in the fishing trade on the West Coast by her owner. It will be some time, now, before the ship will be back in service.

Old Canadian National Ships in West Indies Service Give Way to New Type of Liners

Montreal, March 6.—When the R.M.S. Canadian Fisher of the Canadian National Line steamed out of Halifax February 23, bound for Bermuda, the Western Islands and Belize, it was the last voyage of this stout vessel in that particular trade. As soon as the Fisher swings northward again and terminates the voyage at Halifax, she will end her career as a passenger steamer and her future remains unsettled as yet.

The Canadian Forester, in the same service, will sail from Halifax on March 16, and that will also be the last voyage of this vessel in that particular trade. Both ships will give way to the fine new "Lady" steamers recently built for this route. The Forester and the Fisher are sister ships and were built in the Tidewater yard at Three Rivers, Que., one being launched on August 14, 1920, and the other on September 20, 1920. They were designed for the Atlantic cargo trade, but it was decided to place them in the West Indies service and provide passenger accommodation. For this purpose they went to Halifax and were converted at the shipyard and in 1921 began in the West Indies service. The extent of this service will be appreciated when it is noted that the final voyage of the Fisher will be her seventy-first.

STOUT SHIPS

These stout ships, the Fisher and Forester, are of 5,100 tons deadweight, and are stoutly built, each having proved her seaworthiness. They provided only small passenger accommodation, but it was comfortable in character, and hundreds of passengers from every port of Canada who sailed from the St. Lawrence ports, or from Halifax, on board these steamers have pleasant memories of enjoyable voyages and good fellowship. The size of the steamers allowed the quick development of friendly relations between passengers and officers, and everybody who traveled on these ships always refers to the family spirit which prevailed as soon as they cast off.

Will Construct Two New Liners

Matson Navigation Co. To Spend $13,000,000 For South-Seas Trade

San Francisco, March 6.—Bids for building two liners for the Matson Navigation Company will be opened at the local offices of the line on March 13. The Matson Shipbuilding Corporation, the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company and the New York Shipbuilding Company will be among bidders figuring on the work.

The Southern Pacific Company announced yesterday that construction on their new Diesel-electric auto and passenger ferry Coronado for the San Diego-Coronado Ferry Company, will start Thursday at the Moore Drydock Company's shipyard in Oakland. The new boat will be 140 feet long and sixty feet wide, with a capacity of thirty-two automobiles and 100 passengers. The boat will cost $400,000.

DOROTHY WILL DOCK TO-MORROW WITH BIG LIST

With a heavy passenger list for this port and an equally heavy cargo, the Pacific Steamship Company's coastal liner Dorothy Alexander will arrive here to-morrow night from San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco, having left the latter port yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

This information was received here this morning by W. M. Allan, local agent, from company headquarters in the South. Twenty pointone passengers will disembark here while 135 tons of general cargo will be discharged before the vessel proceeds to Seattle. With good weather up the Coast, the Dorothy should make the Rithet piers here to-morrow evening between 10 and 11 o'clock. Mr. Allan will receive wireless advice sometime to-morrow from the master of the ship telling of the exact time of arrival here.

Butte, Saskatchewan, at a cost estimated at $1,800,000.

It was agreed that the C.P.R. would be given an opportunity to make representations on this matter later and the bill was passed by the committee.

The committee then took up the bill for a line from Neepawa to Swift Current, a distance of thirty-one miles. The bill was approved without discussion.

Another bill approved provides for construction of thirty miles from Ridgetown, Saskatchewan, toward The Pas, Manitoba.

A fifty-mile branch running from Unity southwest, also was approved by the committee. The C.P.R. through Mr. Flintridge, asked leave to make representations to the Minister of Railways on grounds that the projected line might parallel a C.P.R. existing line within a distance of fifteen miles. This was granted.

The proposed line from Hamlin to Glenora, a distance of thirty-three miles, was also approved. It was pointed out that there was an agreement as to running rights between the two railways over that branch.

WILL WELCOME MISHIMA MARU

On her first trip to Victoria and Seattle since being commissioned to the North Pacific from Japan, the N.Y.K. liner Mishima Maru will arrive at the William Head quarantine station on Saturday morning at 4 o'clock, from ports in China and Japan, according to wireless advice received in the city this morning by A. H. Hebb, local agent, from Capt. S. Takahashi, master of the vessel.

Capt. Takahashi was formerly master of the liner Kaga Maru, of the same service which has now been converted into the Japan-Australia service of the N.Y.K. The Kaga was drydocked in Japan and given a thorough cleaning, painting and repairing before entering her new run.

The Mishima, on this trip will probably come alongside the Rithet pier shortly after 7 o'clock to discharge local cargo. For this port she has 210 bags of mail aboard for Victoria and seven for the mail plane. A heavy cargo, including a valuable parcel of raw silk will go on to Seattle for shipment to eastern United States silk mills. Two first class passengers and seven second will leave the liner at this port. A large list of first, second and third class passengers will go on to Seattle.

RECEPTION HERE

Several of the N.Y.K. officials from the Vancouver and Seattle offices will be in town to welcome the Mishima. Mr. Hebb said this morning. Just who they will be he was not certain, but he thought that M. Hota, Seattle general agent, would be among the party.

The Mishima will be the first of three new liners to be put on the Seattle-Victoria-Orient service during 1929, the company planning to convert the large liners Siberia Maru and Korea Maru to this run towards the end of the year. These ships are at present operating to Japan by way of Honolulu out of San Francisco and will be sent north as soon as the new motor liners are released from the builders' hands in Japan.

GIRL SECRETARY IS SOUGHT FOR PRAIRIE INQUIRY

Miss Beatrice Coutts, Secretary to A. W. McLimout, Wanted in Winnipeg

Believed to Be Visiting in Victoria on Way to Los Angeles

Winnipeg, March 6.—Miss Lella Coutts yesterday was questioned on the whereabouts of her sister, Beatrice, private secretary to A. W. McLimout, president of the Winnipeg Electric Company, before the royal commission investigating charges against the Bracken Government. Called as a surprise witness by counsel for Lieut.-Colonel F. G. Taylor, K.C., Conservative leader, whose charges of corruption are being investigated, nineteen-year-old Lella disclosed that her twenty-four-year-old sister left Winnipeg on Wednesday of last week, the day on which Edward Anderson, K.C., president of the Winnipeg Electric Company, took the stand before the commission. At that time Beatrice was secretary to Mr. Anderson. Continued night work and the promise of a holiday for the girl, who had been Mr. McLimout's secretary, led up to her announcement that she was to take a two months' holiday and to visit California, Lella testified. There had been no word definitely of the holiday until the day before Beatrice left, said Lella, but it was not the habit of the family to pry into the business affairs of the secretarial daughters. Women Urged to Assist in Park Conservation

J. C. Campbell Shows Beauties of National Parks to Women's Canadian Club

A plea to the women as natural conservators, "the greatest saviours and protectors from time immemorial," to do all in their power to see that their children's children be not deprived of the privilege of seeing something of Canada's primeval beauty, was made by J. C. Campbell, head of the publicity department of the National Parks branch of the Department of the Interior before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon. In addition to the value of Canada's national parks as assets from the standpoint of beauty, they had a great economic value as attractions for tourists from all over the world, noted the speaker. Canada's national parks had been commenced fifty years ago when about 100 square miles at Banff had been set aside as the Rocky Mountains park. To-day over 11,000 square miles had been set aside throughout the Dominion for the use of the public. BEAUTIFUL FILMS The address was illustrated by a series of very beautiful moving pictures, including one showing a pictorialization of Conan Doyle's poem, "The Athabasca Trail," a wonderful movie taken in New Brunswick and showing moose, baby foxes, deer and bird life in their natural habitat, and a third showing a ride around the trails at Yoho.

C. C. Spofford, the president, supplemented the club's spontaneous vote of thanks to the speaker with a word of appreciation to Mr. Campbell. Mrs. HART RESIGNS During the afternoon announcement was made of the resignation of Mrs. E. C. Hart from the executive, a resignation much regretted. Miss A. T. PIONEER SOCIAL WORKER IS DEAD

Was One of Founders of Friendly Help and W.C.T.U. Refuge Home

Had Resided in City Since 1883; Life Member of W.M.S.

Well known for over forty years in Victoria for her work among the sick and needy, Mrs. Mary Jane Burkholder passed away last evening at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. D. C. Sabiston, 1338 Woodlands Road, at the advanced age of eighty-two years. By her death the fast-dwindling ranks of the women who pioneered in church and social service work in Victoria, lose one of their most devoted and active members, for almost until the very last she never ceased to show a sympathetic interest in any humanitarian cause and in her passing the poor of the city have lost a real friend. PIONEER OF FRIENDLY HELP

Born in Bethesda, Ontario, in 1847, Mrs. Burkholder came with her husband and family to Victoria in 1883, and had resided here continuously ever since. A woman of wide sympathies, she found time, outside the many duties incidental to her family, to take an active interest in other less fortunate.

Mrs. Burkholder was one of the founders of the Friendly Help Association, of which her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Cullum, is to-day the president, and she was also instrumental in establishing the Refuge Home on Ida Street.

In this latter institution she took an unflinching interest, being a member of its board of directors from the time of its establishment over forty years ago to the day of her death, and until failing health two years ago prevented it, was a constant visitor at the home. Throughout her residence here, Mrs. Burkholder was a member of the Metropolitan Church, and in her younger days was active as a teacher in the Sunday school. She was also a life member in its Women's Missionary Society, and was a member of the Central W.C.T.U. and was one of the charter members of the Local Council of Women.

Mrs. Burkholder is survived by her husband, William H. Burkholder, one son, Herbert Burkholder, in Spokane, Wash., three daughters, Mrs. J. A. Richardson, Mrs. W. J. Cullum and Mrs. D. C. Sabiston; one brother, Edward Logan, of 1114 Ormond Street; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The remains are reposing at the B.C. Funeral Chapel, pending burial arrangements.

Welcome Club—The Welcome Club will meet on Thursday, March 7, at the Y.W.C.A. Supper will be served at 7 o'clock. This meeting will take the form of a birthday social, and each one is asked to bring a gift of money, a cent for each year, according to their age. The proceeds will be given to the missionary work of the Y.W.C.A. in China. There will be a programme of music and games, and refreshments will be served at the close of the evening.

London, March 6.—One of the most unusual cases of its kind the London police have ever encountered has come to light through the arrest of a supposed army captain who proved to be a woman.

She is "Captain Leslie Barker," who not only long posed as a man but was one time leader of the National Fascist in London and ran a West End restaurant. She acted as "male" restaurant reception clerk in a West End Hotel when arrested for contempt of court in connection with bankruptcy proceedings. Then her sex was discovered.

Pupils' Programme—A large audience of parents and friends listened with the keenest interest to the work of the pupils of Miss Ozilda Goyette, L.A.B., Friday evening at her home, Royal Oak. The thoroughness of method employed was again exemplified in the all round excellence of the performances from the marked improvement steadily maintained in the care of the elder pupils down to the very pleasing items given by the tiny tots, making their first appearance. Refreshments were served after a pleasing programme in which the following played: Piano solos, Elsa Fagerberg, Ellen Dorman, June Todd, Olive Lang, Helen Rankin, Audrey Downham, Grace Brown, Clarence Scholey, Irene Chesworth, Kenneth Henderson, Miss Hand, Wilmafred, Ethel Eve, Jones, Tracie Wilson; mandolin solo, Miss Jessie Thorpe.

You Can't Dye a Dress with Promises!

You can't dye a dress—no matter how careful you may be—without real color. That's the idea behind Diamond Dyes. They are made to give you real service. They contain from three to five times more aniline than other dyes on the market. Next time you want to dye, try Diamond Dyes. See how easy it is to use them. Then compare results. Note the absence of that red-dyed look; of streaking, or spotting. See how soft, bright, new looking the colors are. Then observe how they keep their brilliancy through wear and washing. If you don't agree Diamond Dyes are better dyes, your dealer will refund your money.

The white package of Diamond Dyes is the original "all-purpose" dye for any and every kind of material. It will dye or tint silk, wool, cotton, linen, rayon or any mixture of materials. The blue package is a special dye, for silk or wool only. With it you can dye your valuable articles of silk or wool with results equal to the finest professional work. When you buy—remember this. The blue package dyes silk or wool only. The white package will dye every kind of goods, including silk and wool. Your dealer has both packages.

Board Asks For Drastic Measures Against Drunken and Deserting Husbands

The board of the Friendly Help Association at its monthly meeting yesterday reiterated its stand that some drastic action should be taken against those men who desert their families; those men who are addicted to drink, and men who are addicted to drink, leaving their families for the community to support. The children must be fed, and the board feels that the head of the family should be made responsible.

Mrs. Wm. Grant, vice-president, was in the chair and Aldermen James Adam and E. S. Woodward represented the city. Mrs. Grant on behalf of the board expressed pleasure at Miss Lawson's return after her serious illness. Mrs. H. G. Wilson was welcomed as a member of the board.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

CHANGE CHILD'S ROUTINE AS CHILD GROWS

As soon as the young and conscientious parent has established the right habits of sleeping, she is loath to make any change in them. Because the child has always taken two naps a day, the mother is unprepared for the moment when the baby no longer wants so much sleep in the daytime.

Sometimes between the ninth and twelfth month, every baby shows a rather sudden disinclination to sleep after his bath at ten. For a few mornings he will just fuss for an hour and then fall asleep; then one fine morning he will stand up in his crib, shake the bars and howl his utter distaste for morning naps. The trembling mother, frightened by this sudden change, allows him to scream himself exhausted and then finds him sleeping long past his next feeding, and otherwise disrupting his regular routine.

Instead of calling him a bad and naughty boy, who won't take his nap in the morning, she would do better to shake herself and realize that she is growing up and that he can't sleep all night and all morning, too. Instead of letting him grow irritable and nervous in his bed, she must, rearrange his day with only one nap in mind.

If he has arrived at the one nap stage, he is also almost ready for the three-meal-a-day period. Breakfast at seven o'clock, orange juice at ten and lunch, and then a long nap, a mid-meal lunch between twelve and six, and dinner and bed at six, will fix things nicely.

Some mothers worry that baby is in bed during the nicest part of the day. From eleven to twelve is a fine time for baby's sitting and then his lunch and nap will fit in just right.

Again between eighteen months and three years, baby will decide just as arbitrarily that he won't sleep at all. Swallow your chagrin and your motherly hopes that his afternoon naps would last until school time and face the inevitable. Take off baby's clothes as usual after lunch, put him in bed, but do not insist that he sleep. Give him some toys, leave the door open and the shades up and tell him to play quietly. The very lack of coercion may induce him to lie down quietly and, who knows, pop off to sleep. If he doesn't, make the best of it and put him to bed one hour earlier at night.

All babyhood is made up of changes. Mothers must be ready for them and accept them. One can't fight growth.

Telegraphers to Hold Big Dance

Hon. R. R. Bruce, Premier and Mayor Patrons of Friday's Affair

The Vancouver Island Telegraphers will hold their first annual dance in the Empress Hotel on Friday, March 8, under the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Mackenzie, the Premier and Mrs. Toimle and the Mayor and Mrs. Anselme.

The new Empress orchestra, under Director Tickle, will provide music from 8 to 11. This will include the latest hits from the East. Novelty dances are arranged for 10 and 10.30, and a buffet supper at 11 o'clock.

The committee is headed by I. E. Barr and D. B. Nickerson of the E. & N. train dispatchers' office, and N. F. Lang, agent-telegrapher of the E. & N. Railway at Chemainus, and they are confident the affair will be the biggest success of any like event to be held in the West.

Invitations have been extended over the Pacific Northwest, and telegraphers are expected to attend as much as service will permit.

The committee states that dress is optional. A limited number of tickets has been left at railway, steamship and telegraph offices for those desiring to attend.

The music will be broadcast from the Empress Hotel.

UNIVERSITY GRADS HELD REUNION BANQUET HERE

Former Toronto Students
Elected Dr. J. S. Plaskett
President Last Night

University of Toronto graduates and undergraduates held their dinner and social gathering at the Empress Hotel last night under President Baird. Dr. A. D. A. Mason of the Faculty of Dentistry, who is touring the West as representative of the university to the various alumni organizations, was the guest of the evening. Miss Ethel Macfarlane sang.

The officers for the year were announced as follows: Hon. President, Rev. Dr. John Campbell; president, Dr. S. J. Plaskett; first vice-president, E. C. Senkler; second vice-president, Rev. Dr. W. J. Sippell; secretary, Miss Patricia Hamilton Smith; committee, Miss Lella B. Maxwell, J. E. Umbach, Robert Baird and W. A. Patterson.

BROADER CANADIANISM

In an address, Dr. Mason said it was hoped in the interests of a broader Canadianism that there would be a greater interchange of students across Canada, with more from the West going to Eastern colleges and more from the East coming to Western schools. He outlined some of the features of the large programme of research under way in the various departments of the university, declaring that research came first now in university purposes with imparting its results to the public second in importance, and the teaching of undergraduates third.

Among those present were: Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Plaskett, Judge Lampman, Rev. Dr. W. J. Sippell, Dr. G. L. Milne, Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Harber, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Patton, Mrs. F. Nutrie, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Umbach, Miss Lella B. Maxwell, Miss Ethel Macfarlane, Miss Olive M. Snyder, Mrs. J. A. Bucklin, Mrs. Mary McCoy Jameson, Mr. W. A. Jameson, Miss Patricia Hamilton Smith, Mrs. Carrie Jeckling, Heb. Miss Thelma Sippell, Mr. A. D. Macfarlane, Mr. Kenneth Drury, Mr. G. H. Richardson, Mr. J. H. McIntosh, Mr. W. M. Ivel, Dr. E. Lloyd McEwen, Dr. Mason and Dr. J. C. Foote.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

One Mother says:

Before my three children come home from school I write their names on a slip of paper. Under their names I write the duties they are supposed to do, such as: Change dress, empty living-room waste basket, give chickens fresh water and other innumerable light chores which I think all children should do. This saves me from discussing and perhaps arguing with the children as to what they are to do and as I sometimes have callers or am resting it has proved a blessing many times. At the end of the week stars are given, a gold star for ten duties and a penny for every gold star, which supplements their allowances.

TRAVELERS' AID ASKED TO FIND MISSING MAN

Quebec Woman and Four Children Stranded in New York

New York, March 6.—Mrs. Elizabeth Findlay and her four young children, aged from 9 to 2, were all the Travelers' Aid Society guests to-day, hoping that society agents would succeed in their search for the husband and father, George Findlay, who sent them money two weeks ago to leave their home in Danville, Que., and join him here.

Two years ago George came to New York and ever since had sent money for his family's support. Two weeks ago he wrote his wife that he had secured a position as superintendent of an apartment house at 21 Bennett Avenue. He had established a home for her and the children, he wrote, and he enclosed money for the family to come to New York to join him. Saturday morning the mother and four children arrived and went direct to the Bennett Avenue address only to find that the husband and father was not known there. The Travelers' Aid Society learned of their plight, took them in and cared for them since.

Commodore Broughton Chapter I.O.E.—The newly-elected executive officers for the coming year were welcomed by the regent, Mrs. G. J. Weller, at the meeting of the Commodore Broughton Chapter, I.O.E., held Monday afternoon. The meeting was well attended, several applications for membership were received and plans for the year's work formulated.

Katchewan's new outlet for grain at Fort Churchill, C. B., is not a threat.

"Regina stands to gain more than any other city on the prairies by the opening of the Hudson Bay Railway," he said in explaining that the city, by a sixty-five-mile cut-off via Sturgis, would be given a direct line to Fort Churchill.

The approximate distance from Regina to The Pas, he added, was 200 miles, and from Regina to Fort Churchill, 700 miles.

"And the Pacific Coast also stands to gain by the building of the Hudson Bay Railway," went on Mr. Rooke.

"It has taken the East forty years to realize that the railway would benefit the entire country and they are now supporting the project." Grain will continue to come to the Pacific Coast as the Hudson Bay route will only be available for shipment during certain months of the year. "The Oriental market will also be a big factor in the development of the Coast grain route," Mr. Rooke said.

Red Hardaker Plays Spectacularly and Cubs Trounce Lions

Substitute Goalie Turns in Brilliant Performance in Victoria Nets and Blanks Visitors, 3-0; Sammy McAdam Replaces Jackson in Goal for League Leaders and Does Well; Cubs Show Some Combination; Fifteen Penalties Handed Out During Game.

A slim, sorrel-topped youngster by the name of Hardaker gave the Victoria Cubs their first victory in eleven starts at the Willows Arena last night when he stopped the onslaughts of the Vancouver Lions with spectacular saves, while his teammates were shoving home three goals. Replacing Robertson, the local goalie, who is sick with the flu, Hardaker turned in the game of his life and although the Lions pestered him with shots from all angles he had his net closed for the evening.

Both teams started without their regular goalies. Sammy McAdam, substitute forward, being in the Vancouver cage in place of Jackson, who is laid up with an injured knee. Playing his first game between the pipes, McAdam turned in a creditable performance and the three shots that beat him would have been goals even with the famous Jackson playing.

HARDAKER UNBEATABLE

Hardaker, who is the league's spare goalie, was just unbeatable. On their openings the Lions might have scored just as many if not more goals than the Cubs. Three times time Jerwa, Beattie and Somers were able to clean through the Victoria defence, only to have Hardaker smother their shots. Several times he slipped to the ice and gathered in the puck before the players could scoop it into the twine.

The Vancouver team was further weakened through the loss of Bud Phillips, their star right winger, who injured a couple of ribs in Monday night's game. Don Cummings is still laid up through the injury received in Portland last week. Frank Jerwa, a brother of Joe's, made his initial appearance last night with the Lions, and although a little wobbly on his skates, he looked like a promising player. He handles his stick well and has a good shot.

Jack Kelly, who was forced out of the game in Vancouver with a broken skate, was only on the ice for about half the game last night. Although he had obtained another pair he was unable to skate in his usual style.

EVANS PLAYS WELL

Jimmy Evans, the Cubs' diminutive centre player, turned in a fine performance. In the first period he led most of the attacks and two of his passes went for goals, Redpath getting the first and Kelly the second. Evans scored the third halfway through the second period.

After an absence of one game Mickey Ion made his return as referee and his work last night was like a dream. Fifteen penalties were handed out during the three periods, Victoria getting nine and Vancouver, five. The game was fairly clean.

The Cubs started off the first period with a rush as if they meant business. Joe Jerwa got home the first real shot with a fast one from the blue line. Herman Runge returned the puck to the left boards. Breaking fast from the defence after breaking up a Vancouver attack, Redpath was right there but his shot from a difficult angle bounced off McAdam's pads. Taking a pass from Somers, Anderson had him in the net, but the goalie, who was in the net, broke his stick.

REDPATH SCORES
Carrying the puck down the right boards, Redpath drove one at the corner of the net but McAdam blocked it. Evans got the rebound and passed to Red, who sank the disc behind the goalie. Shortly after Redpath tried to poke home another pass but Evans, who had cleared the net, was in the way.

Vancouver came close to scoring when Doug Brennan made his pipe return with one of his best let drives. Taking a perfect pass from Evans, Kelly drew McAdam out of his net to give the Cubs their second goal.

The Cubs were working the forward pass to perfection, and several times through the Vancouver defence. Two to the Victoria forwards were right through the net in quick order. Pridham for tripping Somers and Kelly for upsetting Joe Jerwa. Joe Jerwa, who ended for routing it with Evans.

Although the Lions had a decided advantage in the second period, the Cubs scored the only goal. The penalty box in quick order, Pridham for tripping Somers and Kelly for upsetting Joe Jerwa. Joe Jerwa, who ended for routing it with Evans.

BEALES IN MAIN EVENT

Will Appear on Card at Port Angeles; Jumbo Davies to Meet Grandetta

Teddy Beales, the fighting fireman, has been signed up for the six-round main event on a programme of events to be staged at Port Angeles under the auspices of the Eagles Lodge on March 15. A suitable opponent is being secured for the husky fireman from Tacoma, and other Victoria Boxing Club fighters will appear on the card.

Beales was the only local boxer to win at Nanaimo Saturday night when he decisively beat Walter Davis of Nanaimo in a one-sided bout.

Jumbo Davies, the hard hitting local heavyweight, has been offered a six-round bout with Frankie Grandetta, better known as the Hollywood Skeik. Jack Allen, the Vancouver promoter, advised the local officials that if they decided they could stage this bout as a main event in this city, or he would put it on as semi-main event on his next programme when Wildcat Carter will tackle one of the best boys in the game.

The Victoria Boxing Club is staging its next show on March 23, and it is possible that they will use the Davies-Grandetta bout as the main event. Other main events which the club was considering for this show were a return bout between Hector McDonald and Tommy Fielding, or a bout between Alvin Davies and Harry Pollett of Nanaimo, but it looks as if these bouts will be sidetracked until some future date, as the Grandetta bout appear to be best of the three.

DUSTY MILLER IS MATCHED WITH LOHMAN

Fighter Who Beat Local Boxer in California Will Make Appearance Here

Ten-round Bout to Be Held April 6; Lohman Has Met Loughran Twice

Joe Lohman, Toledo heavyweight, who won a decision from Dusty Miller, local scrapper, in a ten-round bout staged recently at Vallejo, Cal., has been signed for a return bout to be held at the Tillamook gymnasium on Saturday, April 6. Bob Vipond, matchmaker of the Central Boxing Club, announced this morning that he had received a wire from Lohman agreeing to the bout here next month.

Lohman will be the best fighter that Miller has ever appeared against in a local ring, and Victoria fans will not doubt witness a fine scrap. In the bout held in California the two fighters fought viciously for ten rounds, with Miller resorting to close fighting while Lohman landed his blows from long range. According to reports from the South, the local fighter was entitled to a draw.

HAS MET LOUGHAN

Since his bout with Miller, Lohman met Tommy Loughran, world's light-heavyweight champion. He put up a great fight, but lost a close decision to the champion. Like Miller, Lohman is a veteran and is well versed in all the tricks of the game.

Lohman met Loughran some time ago and earned a draw in twelve rounds. He has also fought Lou Lomski, the "Aces" champion, and conqueror of "Tuffy" Griffiths.

This is expected to be one of the best bouts seen here for many years. Fans like plenty of action and heavyweights are the lads who can thrill the spectators with their heavy blows.

Miller will commence training immediately for what he expects to be one of the toughest fights of his career.

Milk in Its Best Form

Carnation Milk is always pure, always sweet, always uniform in quality. It is doubly rich in cream, and "homogenized" to break up the cream into finest particles. That's the secret of the velvety texture it gives everything.

KIDNEYS FLASH WARNING PAINS

It is often a sign that your kidneys are calling for relief. An appropriate treatment with Santal Midy capsules and a sensible diet per directions will bring relief. If serious, consult your doctor first, try genuine Santal Midy capsules, bearing signature of Dr. L. Midy, noted French physician.

Have you all of your own teeth?

Unless you take preventive measures now, the day is coming when you may know, to your sorrow, that the true meaning of the phrase "artificial denture" is often the extravagant price of self-neglect—false teeth. Here's the reason and the way to help safeguard health against the coming of this day.

Teeth are only as healthy as the gums. And gums, undernourished and under-exercised, soon surrender to dread diseases that ravage health and often destroy teeth. To prevent this, avail yourself of the best care that modern dentistry offers. Place yourself in the hands of your dentist at least twice a year. And brush your gums when you brush your teeth, every morning and night.

But for this purpose—use Forhan's for the Gums... the dentifrice designed to help firm gums and keep them sound, thus protecting them from the attack of disease.

Use Forhan's regularly. You'll be delighted with the way it makes your gums look and feel. In addition, you'll notice that it effectively and safely cleans teeth and helps to protect them from decay. Get a tube of Forhan's—today!

Bobby Jones on Golf

The proposed standardization of a golf ball slightly larger and lighter than the ball at present in use, has brought forth a chorus of objections which to my way of thinking are remarkably unsound. It is evident that the objectors have failed to look back over the various progressive steps which led us to the ball we are now using. Something has led them to believe that by increasing the diameter of the ball a few hundredths of an inch and by limiting its weight to a figure less by a few hundredths of an ounce than the weight of the present ball, the whole structure of the game will be changed. It is apparently thought that an entirely different kind of skill would be required to control the larger and lighter ball.

For a person to determine for himself, whether or not he thinks the change will be beneficial to the game it is necessary first to understand that the proposed ball is after all a golf ball. There is nothing mystic about it. If it is struck like a golf ball ought to be struck, it will behave very much as a golf ball should behave. Its potential range will be slightly less than the present ball—but not much, and it will be slightly more difficult to control in a wind.

EXPERT LIKELY TO SUFFER MOST
It is said that the increased difficulty which will be interposed in the way of control will make the ball unpopular with the average golfer. But the control which will be made more difficult is not that which is necessary in order to hit the green from 120 yards away. The average player will still be able to do that if he ever could. It is for the expert who plays for the pin who will suffer. The least mistake will carry his ball to the outer reaches of the putting surface, a result which he will regard as a very bad shot.

The difference is not far removed from that which I find between myself, as a dub billiard player, and a true expert. I am told that the expert billiardist intends to control not only the point where the cue ball hits the first object ball, but the point where it shall strike the second object ball and the spots on the table where all three balls shall come to rest. Now the only thing I can hope to do is to hit the first ball so that the cue ball will come off it upon the second object ball, and to me it matters little if the cushions are dead and the balls are cracked. The control of an expert is outside my province. As a matter of fact, I should loudly applaud any move to increase the size of billiard balls. Perhaps that is a pass as close to close together without striking.

ONE MUST ADAPT HIMSELF TO NEW BALL

I should like to recall the old Black Domino to those who fear so much the advent of the larger ball. The Black Domino was a larger ball than the one now proposed and I think it was no heavier. Yet for along while I, and players more accomplished played it in preference to anything we could get. I remember a match which I played again, Perry Adams at East Lake in 1916. It was raining that day, and the grass was wet. I used two Black Dominoes, one the Black Domino, and the other the Black Circle. I was never able to discover that the larger ball was harder to control.

About 1917 the Honor balls were introduced. The Red and Blue Honor balls were smaller and heavier than the balls we had been accustomed to playing. After using them for a year or so, I had occasion to play one round with the old Baby Dimple, which was still being made. After having played the heavier balls, the Baby acted much like the proposed ball acts to-day—soaring flight and all that. But a year or two previous to that time, it had appeared the best ball made. I think now that this new ball which it is proposed to adopt will likely at first be much like going back to the Baby Dimple after playing the Red Honor. It is probable that several months' play will be necessary before we shall be able to wholly accustom ourselves to the new ball. But golf will still be enjoyed and Walter Hagen, Johnny Farrell, Gene Sarazen and the rest will still play pretty well.

I predict that if the new ball is standardized, after two months' play, there will be no strangeness or unpleasantness experienced in its use.

HORSE RACING

Tia Juana, March 6—A beautiful stretch duel was fought to the finish in the day's lastest setting of an excellent well handicapped programme. The Midnight Follies three-year-old brown gelding Agua Caliente, with an edge of eighteen pounds over W. E. Coe's colt Algernon, hustled along by jockey Douglas, took command by a head in the last furlong and necked out the Fair Play colt after a wonderful display of courage on the part of the leaders.

Bert Seburn's big six-year-old mare Waimanu is now in top form and when that way can run through the stretch with any of them. Yesterday, for the second time within a week, she has headed off Simony within a few jumps of the wire, when the son of Golden Sun looked a cinch. Simony carried the public's biggest helping in this affair, which was participated in by a cracking good band for a common claiming race.

Favorites dominated things in practically every race. The prices were all around "evens," with a couple of exceptions. Jockey Trimble, the Salt Lake lad, turned in three winners for the day, by way of displaying to his new owner that he has purchased something better than a raw hand.

Results follow:

First race, four furlongs—Labelotte, $4.40, $2.50, $2.60; Vacaca, $2.40, $2.60; Ragbaby, $5.40. Time, 48 2-5.

Second race, mile and one-sixteenth—Clermonte Jr., $3.80, $3.60, $2.40; Shasta Cherry, $4.80, $2.80; Cloud Accelerator, $3.20. Time, 1:47 2-5.

Third race, mile and one-sixteenth—

LEADING FAVORITE TO WIN DERBY

BLUE LARKSPUR
THE WINTER BOOKS LEADING FAVORITE TO WIN THE KENTUCKY DERBY

E.R. BRADLEY
THE OWNER OFFERS A $25,000 SIDE BET TO ANY OWNER WHO STARTS A HORSE IN THE BLUEGRASS CLASSIC

Blue Larkspur: That seems to be the good word among the betting men who like to pick a Kentucky Derby winner in February.

The son of Black Servant and Blossom Time is wintering so well at the Bradley farm near Lexington, Ky., many turf men figure the horse will open at odds of 6 to 1.

Most likely, pricemakers are being influenced by Owner E. R. Bradley's recent announcement in New Orleans that he will back his three-year-old for $25,000 against any other prospective starter in the Kentucky classic, both horses to go to the post and one of the other to finish fourth or better.

In seven starts as a juvenile, Blue Larkspur won four races and $66,970, missing the Hopeful by a head. His notable triumphs include the Juvenile, the National Stallion stakes at Belmont and the Saratoga Special.

His showing in the latter even made him a choice for the Futurity, where he ran out of the money and suffered minor injuries which caused him to be temporarily retired and prevented his training for the Pimlico Futurity, as originally planned.

Colonel Bradley is the only man to have his colors finish first and second on two occasions in the Kentucky Derby. In 1924, Believe Yourself and Black Servant, both Idle Hour Farm horses, finished in the order named. When Bubbling Over raced to commanding victory in 1926, his stable companion, Bagenbaggage, finished second.

Gumbouts, $5.80, $2.40, $2.30. Many others, $2.80, $2.20. Murky, $2.60. Time, 1:48.

Fourth race, five and one-half furlongs—Tommy Lad, $4.60, $3.20, $2.60; Honey Thistle, $3.80, $3.60; Nannie Frances, $4.20. Time, 1:07.

Fifth race, six furlongs—Perriean, $4.80, $3.40, $2.80; Ethel Haughton, $5.30, $2.80; Petalika, $3. Time, 1:13 3-5.

Sixth race, six furlongs—Waimanu, $11.80, $4, $2.60; Simony, $3, $2.40; The Tartar, $2.40. Time, 1:11 4-5.

Seventh race, mile and seventy yards—Agua Caliente, $10.80, $4.20, $2.60; Algernon, $4.60, $2.60; Pennaio, $2.40. Time, 1:43.

Eighth race, mile and one-quarter—Hands Up, $3.40, $2.80, $2.60; Shasta Sheik, $9.40, $6; Cockney, $4.20. Time, 2:07 3-5.

Ninth race, mile and one-sixteenth—Kentucky Babe, $11.80, $7.20, $6; Frank G. Menke, $9.60, $4.80; Sir John K., $6.20. Time, 1:46 1-5.

Latest Pose of German Heavyweight

Max Schmelling, young German heavyweight fighter, has been pronounced by some critics to be one of the most promising young heavies in the game. Schmelling is said to bear a resemblance to Jack Dempsey, both in his ring actions and in looks. Schmelling recently scored a technical knockout over Johnny Risko at Madison Square Garden.

New York, March 6—The Athletic Commission yesterday decided that Tommy Loughran must defend his light-heavyweight title against Leo Lomski the next time the Philadelphia fights in New York State. Loughran informed the commission in a telegram from Chicago that he will defend his crown there against Mickey Walker, March 28, but that Lomski is welcomed to the next title shot after Walker has been disposed of.

Junior C. of C. Will Handle Celebration

Plans For May 24 Started at Citizens' Meeting Last Night

Holding of Sea Festival Here Is Proposed as Celebration Feature

Direction of the May 24 celebration in Victoria this year was granted to the Junior Chamber of Commerce at a citizens' meeting held in the council chamber last night. Praise for the way in which this energetic group of young business men handled the affair last year was expressed by several speakers and after some discussion they were again entrusted with arrangements for the celebration.

A suggestion that a grand water festival be made a feature of the celebration was made by Frank M. Hunter, city clerk, who thought a distinctive appeal could be made along these lines, instancing the success of the tugboat race held on May 24, 1927, as a nucleus for such a festival.

"I'm sure that all who witnessed the race were impressed with its possibilities. I think that if Victoria is going to put over the May 24 celebration, it must do something outstanding," he said.

SEA FESTIVAL

The tugboat race, fishermen's races, whaling demonstrations, launch and sailboat races and other such events were suggested by Mr. Hunter as a basis upon which to work for a sea festival.

An attempt was being made by the city to have H.M.S. Colombo here on May 24, Mayor Ansonbom pointed out. He was of the opinion that the Victoria should concentrate its efforts upon the May 24 celebration instead of July 1, suggesting the Junior Chamber make overtures to the Native Sons of Canada in regard to this celebration.

INDIAN RACES

Another suggestion was that Indian races be held at the Gorge again. Walter Miles, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said that the Victoria Motorcycle Club and other organizations had offered their services in making the programme a success.

The celebration plans were placed under the direction of the Junior Chamber on the motion of Arthur Manson, seconded by James McCall. Asking for the privilege, Mr. Miles said:

"Our organization made a success of the affair last year, and I think that our record is sufficient justification for the citizens of Victoria to give us their faith and confidence again. We have had one year's experience at this work. We have an organization of young men who are able and willing to put over this celebration properly."

After pointing out that last year he had opposed the Junior Chamber in its efforts to take charge of the celebration, Mr. Manson said:

"The Junior Chamber put over the celebration last year successfully and I feel they will be able to do even better this year. If I can do anything to help the Junior Chamber, I will be glad to do so."

President Miles said the Junior Chamber would be only to glad to have the assistance and guidance of those who had been connected with the celebration for a number of years, mentioning particularly the name of Alderman John Harvey.

Mayor Ansonbom stated a sum of money for the celebration had been earmarked in the city's estimates and that there was a balance of $1,012.84 on hand from last year. He suggested a general chairman should be appointed by the City Council, owing to the fact that public funds were being handled.

SALARY RAISE BRINGS FIRE ON MINISTER

Is it to Prepare Way For Shelly Bakeries Man, Asks Pattullo

Government Increases Taxes, Expenditure, and Is Short in Estimates, He Says

Refusal of Premier To make to stand over second reading of the Audit Act, providing power to the Finance Minister to increase the salary of Comptroller-General from $6,000 to $10,000, led T. D. Pattullo to warn the Premier that more time would be wasted than saved by his refusal. The Premier refused Mr. Pattullo's request on the grounds that the Finance Minister wished no further delay on the bill. As a result, an hour and a half was spent in argument.

SHORT IN ESTIMATES

Charges that the Government had increased taxes, increased the cost of administration, were $1,000,000 short in their estimates, and would be many millions short before the year ended, featured the debate.

Mr. Pattullo put a direct question to the Minister of Finance as to whether an employee of Shelly-Bakeries was not to receive the position when the present comptroller general who has resigned relinquished his duties. He received no answer.

Both Mr. Pattullo and A. M. Manson, B.C., submitted that a capable official could be secured without the increase being made.

When Mr. Shelly rose to his feet to say that it was not proposed to pay $2,000 to the Comptroller-General to be named when the present officer, who has resigned, gives up his duties, but powers to do so were given by the bill, Mr. Manson immediately quoted the estimates, where provision for a salary of $7,500 was made.

INCREASING TAXES

Mr. Pattullo, in the course of his criticism, charged the present Government with increasing taxation, increasing the cost of administration and increasing the cost of the Government. He said that the Government had increased the cost of administration by $1,000,000, and were a $1,000,000 short in the estimates, and would be several millions short before the end of the year. The former administration had never increased taxes to meet service it created. They were met from developments, but they now found the Government increasing taxes and getting more revenue to the extent of ten per cent.

"I have heard," said Mr. Pattullo, "we are going to have someone connected with Shelly's Bakeries as Comptroller General. He put the question to Mr. Shelly and failed to receive an answer. I rather think I have hit the nail on the head. The failure of the Minister to reply would indicate that," said Mr. Pattullo.

If the Minister felt the Comptroller General worth more money than they, why did not they get down to a basis of equality and reduce their own salaries. He asked again whether the increase was so an appointee of Shelly's Bakeries could be appointed.

"Possibly we shall not now have the honorable gentleman from Shelly's Bakeries as the next Comptroller General of British Columbia," said Mr. Pattullo. He remarked that he noticed the Government had several times changed its plans after opinions had been voiced by the Opposition.

Mr. Pattullo claimed that a capable man could be found for the position without the increase in salary. There were men who wished to get out of the stress and strain of private industry who would be glad to accept $6,000, and would be as capable as men who would be paid $10,000 or $15,000. If this salary were not to be raised, there were deputies who should be given consideration, said Mr. Pattullo, stressing the importance and responsibilities of a Deputy Minister's duties.

UPHILL VOLUNTEERS

Tom Uphill took issue with Mr. Pattullo. "If a Comptroller General is worth $8,000 a year when men like myself make $90,000 a week in Home Oil," he said, "then you should fire him and put some one else in. Olive me a little practice and put me in, Mr. Speaker. I could save the Province $8,000 a year." He strongly advocated an increase in salary for the chief inspector of mines. "In my opinion," he concluded, "you are not paying the Minister too much, but you are not paying the members enough."

Mr. Manson advanced similar arguments to those of the Leader of the Opposition, and launched into an appeal for consideration for the smaller paid men of the civil service. He was frequently called to order by the chairman on the grounds that he was wandering from the point under discussion. While Mr. Manson was figuring the Minister of Education solemnly volunteered the information that $1,500 was 25 per cent of $6,000.

SHELLY FIGURES IT OUT

H. P. Kergin put the question to the Finance Minister, whether $15,000 was 25 per cent or 33 1/3 of $6,000, and Mr. Shelly informed him it was 25 per cent.

As the Opposition members laughed, Mr. Manson remarked that the Minister's figuring was a good sample of the splendid figuring of the Department of Finance. "I thought the budget speech sounded as if it were based on figuring something like that," said Mr. Manson.

Mr. Hinchcliffe later rose to say he was figuring the percentage of $1,500 on $6,000. The Minister of Education also remarked that Mr. Manson was setting up a straw man to knock him down, and knew that $75,000 was provided in the estimates to provide for the smaller paid civil servants.

"No we did not knock down a straw man," said Mr. Manson. "You put up a man of dough and we punched him. The bill was then given second reading."

kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. If damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism. At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and put in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This will stimulate the kidneys to remove body waste also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are made from acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. (Adv.)

STOCK MARKETS AND FINANCIAL NEWS

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
New York, March 6.—Whitney, of the Wall Street financial bureau says today:

RAIDED
"Raiders were out in full force in yesterday's market, encouraged by the word which was passed around that there would be an unexpected advance in the call money rate, and aided by the advice of many commission houses that many stocks should therefore be sold in view of this development. These raiding tactics were again responsible for bringing about declines in stocks which in the past week or so have recorded new tops, but brought lower prices only so long as the raiders were willing to use stock for hammering purposes which they were endeavoring to replace to-day, and I believe with little success, since their attempted market manoeuvre was largely nullified before the close. The manoeuvre served at least one useful purpose in that it again prompted the market to demonstrate at just what level the line of resistance was to be found, a line which proved to be just approximately the bottom established in the previous market session.

"I see no change in the general market other than the transition of speculative interest from the industrial to the rail group and see no reason for disposing of issues which have been recommended here but on the other hand, plenty of reason for continuing to make commitments in those issues.

"D. R. G. Western preferred virtually recaptures its previous top before reaction came in to yesterday's market and more or less irrespective of general market action to-day, is expected to establish a new top which will be more than justified in view of last year's earnings of about $12 a share and the assurance from official quarters that this year's net will be some $35,000,000 in excess of 1928, due in part to company's rehabilitation programme is near ending.

"Good buying was witnessed in New York Central, with this issue and Canadian Pacific scheduled to assume the leadership of the high priced rail group.

"Attention is again directed to Colorado Fuel which advanced rather sharply in the face of the general selling, indicating that the period of accumulation is virtually completed and that the stock is ready to inaugurate its advance which is expected will carry it to higher prices than it has ever sold at.

"International Nickel related all efforts which were made to continue Monday's raid and has now established a firm bottom and will provide just as interesting a problem for short sellers to solve as it has in the past."

N.Y. Market Gossip

(Over R. P. Clark Leased Wire)

New York, March 6.—The trend of the general market is uncertain at this time. There is considerable profit-taking going on, but offerings of the high grade shares are being well absorbed. There is also a substantial volume of switching from the industrial to the high class rails and this accounts for some of the selling. We look for irregularity the next few days. The good coppers continue to be pointed upward. This is especially true with regard to Anaconda and Kennecott. Rumors are current that Anaconda will this year be split two-for-one, with a $5 yearly dividend on the new stock. Kennecott is well bought by people who declare that its earnings at the rate of $11 a share on the new stock. Nevada Consolidated dividends are expected to be doubled soon. Mohawk Carpet is scheduled to hit 100 by July 1 next.

A contract has been closed by the Silica Gel with Bethlehem Steel for dehydration. Silica Gel touched a new high of 100 for all time and it looks higher. Good buying is again appearing in Lambert. Accompanying the buying orders is a story that shareholders will receive a 50 per cent stock dividend this year.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)

Winnipeg, March 6.—Wheat—Wheat market was very active during the first period this morning with further liquidation going on, but the offerings, which were fairly large, were taken by seaboard houses, and prices held very steady around last night's close. Later the market turned quiet, but there was no pressure, and liquidation appeared to have run its course for the time being, which caused shorts to cover, and with a little outside buying based on colder temperatures forecast for winter wheat states, the market had an upturn of one cent, May wheat reaching $1.30, at which point offerings again increased, making it difficult to hold the full package, especially when Chicago had a weak spell after the noon hour, which finally carried our market down to new lows on the moment.

Locally, no export business could be confirmed, exporters all stating they had not received a single bid, and were not in the market, the pool also stating that business was quiet, but Seaboard confirmed some business in Manitoba and American durums.

Liverpool did not fully follow our break of yesterday, but at the same time our market was too high as compared with Liverpool and Buenos Ayres. The situation does not look very strong, as a lot of country liquidation will likely take place during the next month, while there is a large volume of spreads to be unwound between here and Chicago, which has been put on from 2 to 3 cents below difference, and to-day Winnipeg May was mostly 3 1/2 cents over Chicago May. There was some selling of July wheat that was credited to the pool. The cash market was again quiet, but shippers were after the low grades, while offerings were very light.

Coarse grains—Offerings were rather small to-day, and prices maintained a recovery during the first part of the day with some short covering going on. However, there was no real buying of a speculative character, and no export business was confirmed. Markets breaking sharply in the late trade in sympathy with the decline in wheat.

Flax—There was very little doing in flax. The may future opened late, but higher being asked. This advance was not held.

THE OLD ORDER CHANGES

By DAVID LYALL

"I'm sorry these quarrelsome rascals have got you, Major. I generally let them fight it out. Betty is becoming a regular Amazon, and is rather too many for Dumps sometimes. What happened?"

"The tale of woe was once more related, Betty duly reprimanded and made to apologise and withdraw the opprobrious epithet, then Manning presented them each with a new penny, and sent them off to the sweet-stuff shop."

"Hand in hand, smiles chasing away gloom, they toddled off and Manning smiled, watching them disappear."

"If only that divine shortness of memory regarding slights, etc., could be carried into maturer counsels, we might make an end of world strife."

"Disney shook an unbelieving head. 'Fighting always has been, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. I missed you out of church on Sunday, and hoped you were well. What happened?'"

"I was away for the week-end."

"You surprise me; a hurried journey surely? You didn't say anything about it Friday night when we sat here till eleven-thirty."

"No, but it was in my mind all the while."

"Hope is out. Come in and have a smoke. We shall have a spell of unexampled quiet, thanks to your dole to the kids."

"The bare little vicarage study has become quite a familiar place to Manning, and already he had several plans for metamorphosing it into greater comfort. But he had to go slowly with the Disneys. Disney himself had welcomed the information that his stipend would be immediately raised, because he knew that he was worth it, but personal gifts were another thing."

"Like most of the well-born poor he had both pride and sensitiveness. He could go without, tighten the belt, wear shabby clothes, but take charity, No."

"Manning honored him for it, but nevertheless was determined to have his own way somehow. They settled themselves in the shabby basket chairs on either side of the hearth. Disney put a fresh log on the fire, and they were well content. Manning's coming and his loyalty had descended like dew from heaven on the Disneys, transforming the intolerable into the tolerable, and, in a sense, making the desert blossom like the rose. Work became a joy because of one appreciative soul, and for the first time in his life, Manning, in his study, had found a real comrade. Because of it he had withdrawn an application sent to the Bishop just before Manning's arrival, imploring him to find him another charge."

"If I suppose you've no idea where I've been?" said Manning.

"Disney said he had not."

"Mrs. Manning left Mardocks to-day, didn't she? Hope said she saw the motor piled high with luggage, going west, presumably to Chalford Junction."

"Yes, she left on the one-forty. She was gone when I came in from Basingfold this evening. I had not seen her to-day at all, and she did not tell me she was leaving."

"Disney did not ask a question, but he was intensely interested."

"Can't you guess what has happened?" repeated Manning.

"How can I, unless it is that you have disagreed over some of your plans. They would not, of course, appeal to your aunt, but you were prepared for that."

"She disapproved of nearly everything I have in my mind, but we did not disagree over them. The matter which she cannot overlook nor condone, is my forthcoming marriage. I have asked Miss Freeland to be my wife, and she has consented."

"Disney bounded to his feet in the extremity of his surprise. Once or twice he had made a joke on the subject, saying what an ideal arrangement it would be from their point of view, and also insisting that they were made for one another. But Disney had not been able to see it. He considered the social gulf too wide."

"I congratulate you, Major, but, of course, I'm surprised—bowed over in fact. This has just happened?"

"On Sunday I followed her to Fifeley where, I dare say you know, she is in camp with her club girls. She has not written to Mrs. Disney, then?"

"No, no; not a line. Well, you do surprise me. That explains Mrs. Manning's heavy departure. She was very angry of course? She has never liked him."

"In spite of himself, Manning said quietly, 'He has had to do a lot of spinning for the Government, Government rates, and Government money in England flows, apparently, with an almost criminal lavishness. He is an interesting man, and his reasons for first buying that big estate at Gorbham, and then abandoning it were rather unique.'

"What happened?"

"Well, his first idea was to reverse the policy of squirearchy as understood and practised in England and show them something better. Then he reconsidered the matter and either despaired of it, or thought he was not the man to carry it through. He has an immense building scheme in hand just now to provide much-needed dwellings for the people in Basingfold, and so get rid of his surplus profits. He will not make money out of the venture, and the rents will be kept at a strictly moderate figure."

"I hear he is likely to stand for mayor. Is that true?"

"Yes, his idea is that he can use his civic power for the furtherance of his great scheme to educate things more. It's the soundest form of socialism I've encountered yet. I don't like the word—it has a brand on it. Another matter to be found to label the new conditions which a great many good men and true are pledging themselves to bring about."

"You ought to go into Parliament, Major. Men like you are needed there."

"Under what flag?" asked Manning, in a slightly dry voice. "English politics, as presented to us at the moment, don't allure me much."

"Possibly not, the more reason why you should go in, and try to elevate them a bit. It isn't easy, though. I've known a lot of very good chaps go into Parliament full of idealism, and after a time, lose their enthusiasm. One of the best I ever knew said it was inevitable so long as there was so much compromise in politics. Ideals are not popular, and to get anything done at all one has to compromise. Then, 'Hope! Shall we tell her? What a joy it will be to her!'"

"Manning nodded, and rose from his chair and waited for the little mother to come in. Disney was already out in the porch lifting the baby from the perambulator, observing with the usual pang, how tired and flushed Hope was looking. The mother of three without domestic help of any kind, has not much reserve of strength left by seven o'clock in the evening. And Hope was far from strong."

"What do you mean?" asked Mr. Longears. "Are the Bad Chaps out there that I must be careful?"

"Thank goodness, I don't see either the Bob Cat or the Woofie Wolf," answered Mrs. Longears. "But it is very icy and slippery and the wind is blowing hard. You might slip and fall down and then the wind might blow you away, though I hope not."

"I'll be careful," promised the rabbit gentleman. Then taking the moleskin rug under one paw off the stool, Uncle Wiggily found out how slippery

Miss Freeland, nor yet done her justice."

"I am aware of that. Yes, she is very much upset, and I expect has left Mardocks for good."

"But the Linacres are packing up. She will come back to Normanton, and forgive my saying it, but it will be very difficult for Miss Freeland after she comes to Mardocks."

"It may be, but I think she will be equal to it. Anyway, we needn't meet troubles half-way. I'm sorry my aunt has taken it like that, but I don't understand the depth and virulence of her passion against Miss Freeland."

"Well, of course, Mrs. Manning being what she is, there is no small mystery about it. It would have been strange had she not felt it. She is angry that a Manning should make a messalliance."

"The only big fact I see at the moment is that I am likely to have home for the first time since I became a man."

There was pathos and genuine feeling in those words.

"Mary Freeland will certainly do that for you. She is one of the best. But Mardocks will be changed out of all knowledge."

"You speak almost as if you would regret it," said Manning swiftly.

Disney snaked a few moments in silence.

"Well, you see, one gets used to moss on the stones and to memorial ways. No, I don't, I can't regret it, for I am so sure that the new rule is to be wise, beneficent, and above all, humanitarian. There can be no hardship at all here created by these changes. I mean, it will all be to the good. There are places where the passing of the ancient landmarks, or rather their destruction, gives one a real sense of loss."

"Tell me an instance," said Manning interestedly. "I cannot imagine any place which could regret the passing of conditions such as prevail here."

"They were the same, with a difference. It is at Great Martley—you don't know that part of the county yet. I only know it because Jack Ferrara, an old college chum of mine, is curate-in-charge. The family have been there as long as the Mannings, and they have lost everything. How, I can't exactly tell you—it's a case of changing values, I suppose. Anyway, the young man, Lupton Page, has had to sell and go out into what must be a strange, new world to him, where he will have to earn his living. His people have always been the salt of the earth, and the whole village is in the throes of anguish over the end of the Lupton Pages, and quaking because they are getting some of the new 'rich in their place'."

"A case of hardship," Manning admitted. "But of course, it only proves that the system has been wrong all through. No single family or individual should be allowed in any state to acquire so much power and wealth that he can arbitrate in the lives of others."

"Socialism, pure and simple, Major!" said Disney, reflectively, "and though I have suffered through the system here, Mardocks happening to be a very flagrant example of the strong and rather selfish conservatism of the old families, I'm not just sure whether the substitute is going to give us the right conditions."

"The principle is right, anyhow," maintained Manning, firmly. "Faults of administration could arise, of course, and mistakes will be made. But if the spirit is right, and there is vision, why then we ought to get a better England."

"It was not lack of interest that prevented Disney pursuing the subject. He was not prepared to follow Manning all the way, and he most heartily and thoroughly disapproved of the scheme to turn the Hall into a block of residential flats. He did not believe that a temporary makeshift of that kind would give any distance towards solving the housing problem."

"Have you ever met Mrs. Freeland?" Manning asked him next.

"I have not. Hope has been at Coppetts Mill, spending a whole Saturday with the children. She liked him very much. But even he is not free of taint. He has made money out of the war."

"In spite of himself, Manning said quietly, 'He has had to do a lot of spinning for the Government, Government rates, and Government money in England flows, apparently, with an almost criminal lavishness. He is an interesting man, and his reasons for first buying that big estate at Gorbham, and then abandoning it were rather unique.'

"What happened?"

"Well, his first idea was to reverse the policy of squirearchy as understood and practised in England and show them something better. Then he reconsidered the matter and either despaired of it, or thought he was not the man to carry it through. He has an immense building scheme in hand just now to provide much-needed dwellings for the people in Basingfold, and so get rid of his surplus profits. THURSDAY, MARCH 7
CFT (473.9) Victoria, B.C.
8 a.m.—The morning market quotations from the B.C. Bond Corporation.

It was for his feet nearly went one way when he was going the other and he was all twisted.

"Bug it, I go slowly. I think everything will be all right," said he, surely hope nothing happens after I have bought the molasses and start home with it. Gracious! If I should fall and break the molasses jug, Nurse Jane would never forgive me! Oh, dear, no!"

So, hopping along very slowly, holding to trees and fences, Uncle Wiggily at last reached the molasses store and skipped in with his jug.

"What do you want, Mr. Longears?" asked the dog gentleman who kept the store. "Are you after some vinegar?"

"Molasses, if you please," answered the bunny. "Nurse Jane is going to make me a molasses cake for supper."

"Then I shall give you the very best and stickiest molasses I have in the store," barked the grocery dog, and soon the jug was filled.

"I must be more careful than ever now," thought Uncle Wiggily to himself as he hopped out of the store. "It is very slippery and with the wind blowing something might happen."

He was about to say to his bungalow when all of a sudden the wind blew very hard, tipped Uncle Wiggily to one side and knocked him down. But as he fell he held the jug of molasses over his head so it didn't get broken. I mean the jug wasn't broken.

"That was very lucky!" chuckled the rabbit.

"Then the wind blew harder and harder—so hard, in fact, that Uncle Wiggily couldn't get up on his feet and, as he was sitting on the icy sidewalk, he was blown along just like a leaf on a breeze. Right along the slippery sidewalk Uncle Wiggily was blown.

"Well, this is all right," he said to himself after a while. "The wind will blow me to my bungalow and I won't have to walk."

But instead of letting him stop at his bungalow, as he was blown toward it, the wind blew so hard that it carried Mr. Longears right on past his home, as sometimes, you get carried past your corner in a trolley car.

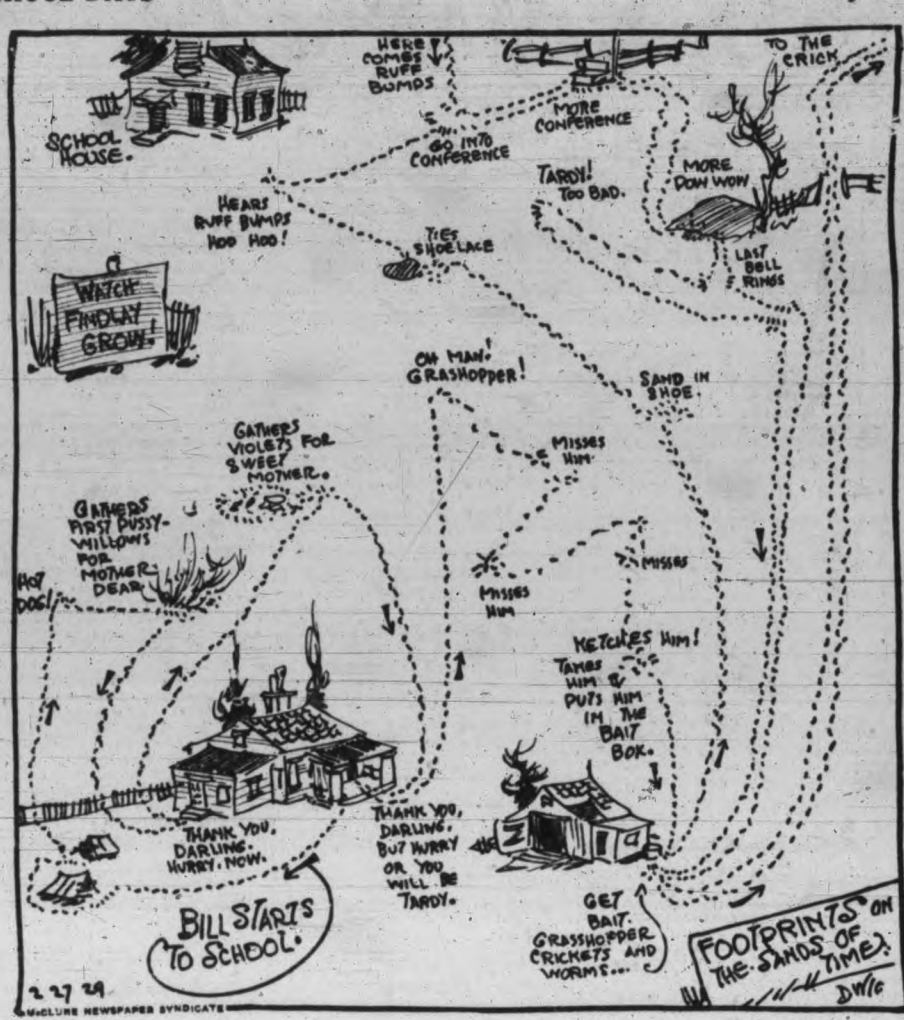

"Whoa! Stop! Back up!" cried the rabbit as he found himself being blown past his bungalow. "I want to go in with the molasses so Nurse Jane can bake a cake!" But the wind blew harder and slammed Uncle Wiggily against the door of his bungalow, back and again went sliding past his home, only the other way.

"Whoa! Stop! Back up!" cried the rabbit. "I want to go in!" But back and forth he was sliding on the ice, now this way and now that way past his house with the jug of molasses. The wind blew him one way and he bounced back the other way but he could never stop in the middle where his bungalow was, to get up and go in. Wasn't it terrible?

But don't worry. Everything is going to be all right. And if the hammer will be kind enough not to hit the nail on the head I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's little party.

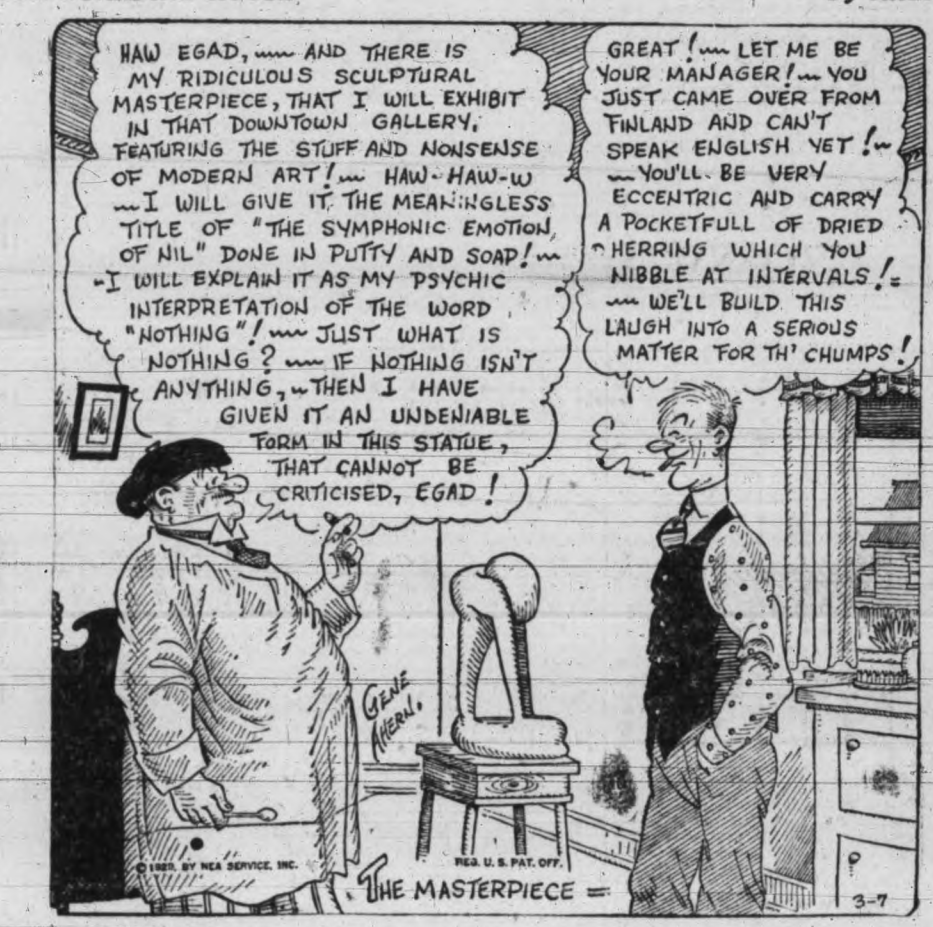

A lawyer had a horse that always balked when he attempted to cross a certain bridge leading out of the village. No amount of whipping or urging would induce him to cross it, so he advertised him for sale. "To be sold for no other reason than that the owner would like to leave town."

Cat Shows Unusual Sense of Time

An Ohio woman and her daughter, who were in business, owned a tiger cat which seems to have had a very good idea of time.

In winter, when they closed their store at 6 o'clock, darkness would have fallen. On going home, as soon as they reached a certain spot, a block and a half from their house, the cat, "Bully," would spring out at them from a hiding place he had chosen, but which was invariably the same.

On Saturday nights they did not go home until 9:30 o'clock. But "Bully" knew this, and would be waiting as on other nights.

This was rather remarkable but not quite as remarkable as the cat's conduct in summer. Five days a week it would still be light when the store was closed and "Bully" never showed up to meet his mistress and play his little game. On Saturday night, however, they came home in the dark as in the winter. Invariably "Bully" was in his accustomed place to spring out on them and surprise them.

Mr. H. D. Laird of Lacombe, Alta., and little daughter, Joan, is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bleakin, Tulip Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Munro and Mr. and Mrs. George McWilliam, Snowdrop Avenue, left on Saturday for Great Britain, traveling via Chicago and New York. On arrival in London they will purchase a car and travel through England to the Highlands of Scotland where they will visit for a few months.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

"Oh, my, I'm groggy," Clowny cried. "I have a pain right in my side. The goodness of the pancakes made me eat too much, I fear. It's exercise I need right now, but I can't run around, somehow. Instead I think I'll flop me down and take a nap right here."

Woe Scouty jumped and danced a jig. Said he, "You eat just like a pig. Why, I am feeling fine because I didn't eat too much. You never seem to have enough, but always stuff and stuff. A sign should be on everything for you that reads, 'Don't Touch!'"

By this time Clowny snored out loud, and this amused the Tiny crowd. He'd fallen fast asleep while Scouty talked. How impolite. Their friend the baker man said, "I think each one should rest his head. You'd all best join tired Clowny. You can sleep right here all night."

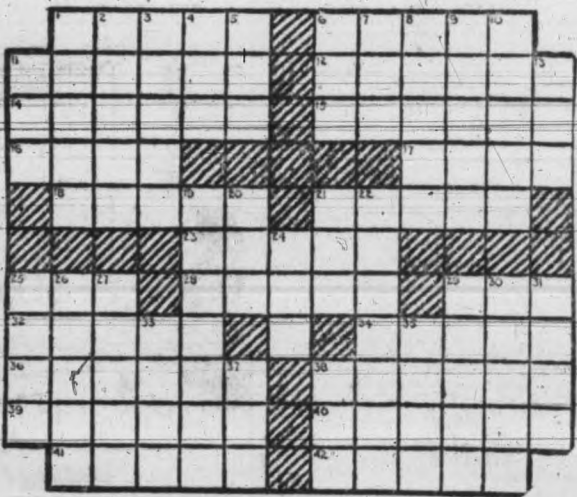

The Tynies all agreed that he was just as right as he could be. And so they flopped down on the ground to sleep until the dawn. All through the night they slumbered sound and at the break of day they found the furry little maple tree and baker man were gone.

Right down a pathway they all went and 'bout an hour or so was spent in trying to find some other friends. Then they came to a tree. They shook the tree and peaches fell. "Ab, ha," cried Coppy. "This is swell. The peaches look like little girls. I'll bet they'll all like me."

One peach then said, "Be quiet boys. You're really making too much noise. We'll do a little dance for you, and then we have to scoot." So after just a little pause the peaches danced and drew applause from all the Tynmites because the dance was very cute.

WITHDRAWS ATTACK ON NEWSPAPERS

Pooley Takes Back Motion on Dismissal of Mrs. MacGill
Action Was Harsh and Unjustified, Manson Tells Legislature

After he had said all he wished to say about his dismissal of Mrs. Helen MacGill, Vancouver Juvenile Court Judge, and after the Opposition had assailed this action, Attorney-General Pooley yesterday withdrew his motion, declaring "that it is very regrettable that inquiries are not addressed to the officials in charge of Government records in order to obtain correct information regarding Government actions, before statements in regard to such actions are made."

This followed an address by A. M. Manson, Liberal of Omineca, who declared Mr. Pooley's action had been unanimously deplored by women's organizations in touch with Mrs. MacGill's work. No criticism had been made of Mrs. MacGill to him when he was Attorney-General, Mr. Manson said. If any criticism had been made to Mr. Pooley, he should have at least conferred with Mrs. MacGill before dismissing her, and appointing a lady not nearly so well equipped for the position. Newspapers friendly to the Government as well as those opposed to it had declared the Attorney-General's action had been dictated by political animus, Mr. Manson said.

ACTION DEFENDED
Mr. Pooley, Mr. Manson went on, had said Mrs. MacGill was dismissed because she refused to commit girls to the Industrial School at the request of officers. It should be remembered, he said, that officers were often overzealous for committal, but it was the duty of a judge to weigh the evidence. In the ordinary courts, officers frequently recommended convictions, but judges refused to make them.

VERY SATISFACTORY
On the whole, Mr. Manson considered, Mrs. MacGill's work very satisfactory, and she had been harshly dealt with in being dropped without warning and without regard to her fine public service.

"The Attorney-General's motion implies that the public is prone to criticize without ascertaining the facts," remarked T. D. Pattullo, Opposition Leader. He must have had in mind the time when he and his Party were in Opposition, when on scores of occasions they criticized the former Liberal Government without supporting facts. They regret doing this now so much that they are condemning this practice. In that regard, I am in full accord with them. The motion was intended at first to censure the Press, but the Attorney-General's courage oozed out and he made the motion apply to the public at large. The dismissal has received the universal disapprobation of the public. Instead of giving her a chance to explain, this elderly lady, who has done her work as a labor of love, is dismissed without explanation."

NEWSPAPER CRITICISM
Mr. Pattullo said Conservatives in the House had been criticizing the newspapers day after day for misrepresenting them. In his twelve years of office, he said, he had been misrepresented on innumerable occasions, but he had never received any sympathy from the Conservative members. Instead, he had been told to resign. Now C. F. Davis, Conservative of Courtenay-Newton, had threatened to introduce a law to censor newspapers' news columns, so that the Government was not content with its plain merely to create a general censorship.

"I think," he added, "that they are undertaking some job."
"I think so, too," said Mr. Davis. "The newspapers often publish the information that is given them," Mr. Pattullo observed. "If the Government continues to give information to the newspapers many untruthful statements will be printed in future."

SUGGESTS WITHDRAWAL
Mr. Pattullo suggested that Mr. Pooley, having made his statement about the MacGill case, withdraw his motion.

Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe, Minister of Education, said there had been no dismissal, but only a failure to reappoint Mrs. MacGill in the new city of Greater Vancouver. He remarked that when Mr. Pattullo was in office, papers supporting the Opposition had criticized him courteously and generously, which could not be said of the criticism voiced against the present Ministry by papers friendly to the present Opposition.

Mr. Pooley then withdrew his motion.

Inquiry Into Secret Service Will Proceed

Pooley Rejects Warning of Dangerous Precedent

Rejecting a warning from T. D. Pattullo, Leader of the Opposition, and A. M. Manson, K.C., former Attorney-General, that in calling for an investigation of secret service expenditures he was establishing a precedent totally at variance with the practice of the Dominion Government and the British Parliament, Attorney-General Pooley in the Legislature yesterday insisted on his motion going before the House.

"I have seriously considered this question. Matters of serious moment have come to my attention, and I should be lacking in my duty if I did not ask for the investigation," said the Attorney-General.

The resolution, which was carried, calls for a select committee of the House, consisting of H. D. Twigg, J. W. Berry and Ian A. Mackenzie, to investigate appointments and expenditures of inspectors and prosecuting officers, to summon witnesses and take evidence under oath and to examine documents and papers.

DIFFICULT WORK
Mr. Manson glanced the resolution as an oblique class at the late Government, and if it was directed at any one, it was directed at him, he said. Secret service was difficult, unpleasant work, and some men of doubtful type had to be employed. They must take the bitter with the sweet among secret service men. While some of doubtful type were employed, some of the finest type of men in the Province were also employed. One discharged man had made statements which led to an inquiry. The investigators reported that they could believe him under oath, but he had continued to go around the country making still worse charges.

In recent years, Mr. Manson continued, the Superintendent of Provincial Police, to whose ability and honesty he paid great tribute, had handled the work with the exception of the appointment of two inspectors, one of whom was Mr. Manson's own secretary, who did a lot of extra work, and who was, therefore, entitled to some recompense.

PRACTICED IN ENGLAND
Mr. Manson quoted the practice in England, where no accounting was required of the money for secret service work beyond the certificate from a responsible Minister that it had been used for the purpose intended. That practice was followed by the Dominion Government, and as far as he knew, by every other Government. While secret service operations were subject to criticism, countries had found them necessary, and the Mother Country had had one from time immemorial. Scotland Yard being known throughout the world.

Mr. Manson emphasized that he was not opposing the motion, but directing the Attorney-General's attention to the precedent he was establishing. T. D. Pattullo spoke along similar lines and also stated he was not opposing the motion. This class of investigation, however, would result in officers being afraid to make any reports at all for fear they would receive the light of publicity and place them in an invidious position in the communities in which they lived. If the Attorney-General had other things in the back of his mind, he could surely secure the information he desired in some other way, submitted Mr. Pattullo.

The resolution passed without opposition.

House Promised Quick Action on Marketing Act

In response to a plea by A. M. Manson, K.C., the Legislature was informed Tuesday that the amendments to the Produce Marketing Act would be tabled to-day. Mr. Manson said that people in the Okanagan would wish time to examine them before they were enacted, and if there was too much delay they would not have the necessary time.

On recommendation of the Private Bills Committee, the Legislature decided to allow the Prince Rupert, private bill validating its sale of its power plant to proceed.

The Optometry Act amendments were also recommended to the House by that committee, with amendments and placed on the order paper for second reading.

AT THE THEATRES

COLISEUM OFFERS EXCELLENT BILL ALL THIS WEEK

Once again this week, last night, the Coliseum Players, under the direction of Raymond "Toby" Lettich succeeded in pleasing a capacity house with their latest stage offering in Victoria, a show entitled "The Law of the North." As the title suggests the settings of this week's play are laid in the great white land of northern Canada, Alaska and the Yukon and all the thrilling scenes of these interesting countries are well enacted on the stage at the Coliseum by a clever little group of players. The east is especially well selected. Miss Leone Webber as usual succeeds in pleasing her friends and admirers in the audience by her wit and well presented role, while Mr. Lettich keeps the audience in continual up and down from the beginning of the play until the end. Others in the cast who are also pleasing this week in this splendid little story of the North are Miss Ada Daniels, Miss Esther Todd, Forrest Taylor, Paul Wallace, Leon Cluff and Luros Bagley.

On the screen this week Manager George McEwan is presenting that popular pair of screen lovers, Play Way and Gary Cooper, in their latest starring vehicle, a picture entitled "The First Kiss." So far this week the film has pleased Coliseum patrons and together with the excellent stage fare should give all who see it an enjoyable evening's entertainment. It will be presented every evening for the balance of the week with a matinee performance on Saturday afternoon.

JOBYNA RALSTON IS PLAYING LEAD AT COLUMBIA THEATRE

Just as his flaming "red head" served as a distinguishing mark on the gridiron, so the visorless helmet appears to be destined to distinguish Red Grange on the screen.

For, having discarded his football headpiece with the triumphant release of his initial picture, "One Minute to Play," the Whiffen-loose, dressed in a similar top covering in his starting vehicle, "The Racing Romeo," which Sam Wood produced for F.B.O., now showing at the Columbia Theatre. In a racing helmet, Grange is enacting the role of a small-town youth, who aspires to fame on the banked speedways.

Jobyna Ralston is playing the leading feminine role and in the supporting cast of principals are Trife Friganza, Walter Hiers and Ben Hendricks Jr. The story is an original by Byron Morgan, who wrote "One Minute to Play."

CORINNE GRIFFITH USES NO MAKEUP FOR CAPITOL FILM

Corinne Griffith filmed interior scenes of her latest First National starring picture, "Outcast," now playing at the Capitol Theatre, without any facial makeup.

She Can Now Walk Eight Miles Easily
"I have been laid up with the Lumbago and Rheumatism," writes Mrs. E. Corbin, of Fraxville, N.S. "It was so bad I was unable to get up out of my chair or turn in bed. After using one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I was a lot better. I was able to get around without the aid of help and now walk eight miles twice a week for my groceries." Dodd's Kidney Pills tone up and strengthen Weak Kidneys so that they can do their full work of straining all the impurities from the blood.

"STOLEN LOVE" IS FEATURE PICTURE AT THE PLAYHOUSE

Although all four of the Moore Brothers, Joe, Matt, Owen and Tom, often worked together in the same picture early in their careers, none of them have ever had the pleasure of working on the same lot at the same time for the past several years, until recently. During the filming of "Stolen Love," the FBO picture now playing at the Playhouse Theatre, in which Owen Moore is featured, he was often missing from the set. It was discovered that he was visiting his brother Tom, who was at the same time playing a featured role in "The Last Haul," produced by FBO.

MICHAEL ARLEN AUTHOR OF STORY AT THE DOMINION

Clarence Brown's pet superstition is that it's good luck for him to play a part in every film he directs. In "A Woman of Affairs," co-starring Greta Garbo and John Gilbert, which, with sound synchronization, now at the Dominion Theatre, he is a London taxi driver, a cap pulled down over his eyes and a huge overcoat bundled about his face.

In "The Acquittal" Brown played the part of a newspaper man. In "The Goose Girl" he was the murderer. He was a Cosack in "The Eagle" and a switchman in "The Signal Tower." When he first brought Gilbert and Garbo together in "Flesh and the Devil" Brown played the role of the bungler who opened the picture and in "The Trail of '98" he was one of the prospectors who climbed over Chilkoot Pass.

The new Gilbert-Garbo picture is an adaptation of an original story by Michael Arlen. In the supporting cast are Lewis Stone, Hobart Bosworth, Dorothy Sebastian, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Max John, Macklyn Brown, Bess Meredith made the adaptation.
